Radio Not To Displace Concert, Singer Aver.

MARY LEWIS
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Mary Lewis, Metropolitan Opera soprano, attributes a large portion of her success to radio, since it has brought her before the public more quickly and effectively than could have been accomplished in any other manner.

"I think radio never will eliminate the concert," says Miss Lewis. "In the final analysis, personality is the thing that counts, and personality can best be felt and 'gotten over' when a person stands in the flesh before an audience.

"However, I do believe that the far-reaching effect of radio on the musical life of the country is just beginning to exert itself. The success of the opera singer depends upon a combination of appearance, voice and histronic ability. Over the radio appearance is nothing and the result will be the development of a group of famous radio artists to whom success was denied in opera, long the gate-way to a concert career.

"We are now seeing the early development of chain broadcasting, which I believe will increase steadily, making for fewer and better radio artists, with voice paramount. These artists will acquire a vogue hitherto unknown. The popularity won over the radio will result in largely increased concert earnings. The concert, however, will remain as the real test of a singer's success, whether attained by way of opera or the radio."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PROPOSES NEW DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Showdown On Disarmament Is Proposed

Coolidge Asks Nations To Discuss Further Limitation Of Armaments

PROPOSITION IS SENT GOVERNMENTS

U. S. Asks Discussion And Action On Naval Disarmament At Geneva

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge today called for a showdown with the world powers on the question of further naval disarmament.

He has proposed, in the name of the United States, that the forthcoming meeting of the preparatory commission at Geneva for another disarmament conference, be transformed into something else besides an international debating society and be made an actual disarmament conference in fact.

At the direction of Mr. Coolidge, the American ambassadors to Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy today presented to those governments a formal suggestion by the government that they authorize their delegates to the forthcoming Geneva conference actually to conclude agreements for the further limitation of naval armament.

Advises Congress

The President advised Congress today in a special message of his action. His message contained the text of the memorandum which the ambassadors are delivering to the foreign offices in London, Rome, Paris and Tokio today.

Briefly, President Coolidge has proposed that the powers that are due to convene at Geneva shortly undertake to extend the work of the Washington arms conference by limiting those classes of ships which were left untouched by the 1921 conference. This includes naval ships of all classes of 10,000 tons and under, destroyers, cruisers and other auxiliary craft. And to that end he proposed that the powers delegate to their representatives there real power to enter into agreements.

If the President's suggestion is adopted by the powers it would mean that the Geneva conference, instead of considering the advisability of holding a new armament conference, as it has been engaged in for many months, would actually get down to "brass tacks" and place limitations on those classes of naval vessels not touched at Washington.

Pastor Appeals For Funds Over Air, Gets Some

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Feb. 10.—When Dr. Thomas Grier Koontz, pastor of the United Presbyterian church here, broadcast the first sermon ever "put on the air" here Sunday at Oil City's new station W. L. B. W., he concluded with a suggestion that an invisible collection plate be passed around, and returned by mail.

Today he is a firm believer in the power of radio appeals, as contributions continue to arrive with each mail. An added advantage it is said, is that no anonymous "contributor" has mailed him a "slug."

First Witnesses In Trial Of Rudner For Mellett Slaying Are Heard

HUGE WITNESS LIST PREPARED

Starke County Prosecutor Asks Death Penalty For Man In Conspiracy

By ROBERT WALLACE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CANTON, O., Feb. 10.—In a fiery opening statement, Henry W. Harter Jr., Stark county prosecutor, today accused Ben Rudner of having hired the assassins who killed Don R. Mellett, publisher of the Daily News, and demanded that the jury chosen late yesterday send the former convict to the electric chair in expiation of his deed.

E. L. Mills, chief of counsel for Rudner, replied that the defendant was the victim of a "frame-up" and that the defense expected to secure a verdict of acquittal.

Fifty-Four Witnesses

At least 54 witnesses will appear for the state, subpoenas for that number already having been issued. The list includes virtually the same persons called by the prosecution at the trial of Pat McDermott, convicted Christmas eve and now serving a life sentence for participation in the alleged conspiracy.

Coroner T. C. McQuate and Dr. Guy Maxwell were the first witnesses to be examined when the attorneys had completed their opening statements. They testified to the condition of the body of the crusading editor as seen by them after the shooting. Dr. Maxwell was called to the Mellett home imme-

MAKE RAIDS ON BROADWAY PLAYS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Raids on three Broadway plays, in which 41 actors, producers and managers were arrested last midnight, will be repeated if the theatres open their doors today, Acting Mayor Joseph McKee announced.

The lack of censorship as a curb to licentious performances, it was said, spurred city officials to take the matter in their own hands and clean the stage through strict enforcement of the penal code.

Thus last night, after the curtain fell on the last act, the cast, managers and producers of "Sex," at Daly's; "The Virgin Man," at the Princess, and "The Captive," at the Empire, were politely bundled into taxicabs, taken to the night court and held by Magistrate Flood in varying bail for hearings on Monday and Tuesday. All are charged with "corrupting morals of youth" and maintaining a public nuisance.

Nathan Burkan, who appeared for "The Captive" cast, said he would seek an injunction if necessary to protect his clients. He intimated that the management of the empire will open the theatre today in defiance of the city's orders.

Forty One

There were forty-one stage folk in all, and Broadway—the thousands who got wind of the raids—experienced a real thrill.

To most of the rialto folk it was a mighty funny affair. To city officials a mighty serious one. To impress this on the theatrical folk who crammed every nook and cor-

Two Mills Cut Made In County Rate For Year

Total Tax Millage Rate In County For 1927 Is Six And Half

POOR FUND TAX DECREE IS MADE

Bonded Indebtedness O County Is Also Being Reduced Annually

County Commissioners McCullough, Davis and Matthews this morning set the tax millage for 1927 at 5 1-2 mills for county purposes and one mill for the poor district, making a total of 6 1-2 mills.

This is a reduction of two mills as compared with 1926, when the tax was 6 1-2 mills for county purposes and two mills for poor. The millage is based on a total valuation of about $70,000,000.

The drop of two mills in county taxes has been made possible by efficient management and the completion of the county home, for which an additional tax levy had to be made last year for the purpose of paying for the land and equipping the county home. This expense was around $50,000 in addition to the authorized bond issue of $250,000 for building purposes.

Reducing Indebtedness

The total bonded indebtedness of the county is now around $1,650,000. This includes both road and poor bonds issued. Since the board assumed office in 1924 there has been a material reduction in the bonded indebtedness. In 1924 the debt was reduced $75,704; in 1925, $82,824; in 1926, $77,005, and it is estimated that the reduction this

A convention of some 1000 druggists, 20 counties of western Pennsylvania to meet in New Castle about May 15 was planned at the quarterly meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Retail Druggists' Association held in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Channel Lines To Be Surveyed Along Shenango

New Castle Councilmen Meet Officials At Harrisburg On Wednesday

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR SURVEY

State Engineers To Come Here To Locate Lines Of River Channel

(From News Bureau State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 10.—As the result of a conference held between the Waterways Commission Board and the Council of the City of New Castle, on Wednesday afternoon, the commission decided upon the following action.

To begin the preliminary or survey work of locating and establishing the channel lines of the Shenango river within the confines of the City of New Castle, and to follow this work to completion when funds are available.

Willing to Co-operate

Apparently the fact that City Councilmen Louis G. Genkinger, D. O. Davies and Walter V. Tyler thought the matter important enough to come to Harrisburg to take up, had its influence upon the commission and Secretary of Forests and Walter Charles E. Dorworth displayed a most commendable spirit of co-operation, as did other members of the commission.

In behalf of the city, the three councilmen offered to bear part of the expense of the work and the survey should start within the immediate future.

This means that engineers of the state will come to New Castle and survey the banks of the Shenango

Township Caterpillars Venture Out Earlier Than Those Hibernating In City

Although C. E. Patterson of Chestnut street, may have been the first to discover a caterpillar in the city of New Castle, yet we will have to consider the application for the honor of finding the first spring caterpillar in Lawrence county made by 2 boys of Union township.

Milton Pattison and Gerald Morrison of the Union township high school biology class on February 2, found a very large brown caterpillar gamboling in the spring sunshine that frightened the groundhog back into his hole. This "wooly worm" seem to be enjoying his early spring hike.

Anyone find any earlier? Be sure and pick a warm day.

Hint Coercion At Browning Trial For Separation

Witness Confesses That He Was Forced To Blacken Character Of "Peaches"

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Possibility of a new and startling development in the Browning separation case loomed today when it was reported that one of the witnesses at the recent trial at White Plains had signed a confession that he was "forced" to enter a conspiracy to blacken the character of "Peaches" Browning.

Henry Epstein, attorney for "Peaches," said that if such a confession actually had been signed he would take the matter before justice Albert Seeger who heard the case.

Meanwhile, "Peaches" is on the high seas bound for a brief vacation in Bermuda. Attorneys for Edward W. ("Daddy") Browning have denied there had been any coercion of witnesses at the recent trial.

World Court Is Closed Incident In United States

American Chance Of Adherence To World Court Fades Into Background

MANY SENATORS OFFER COMMENTS

Nations Refuse To Admit United States Under Terms Laid Down

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The effort to put the United States into the World Court was described today as "a closed incident."

Great Britain's refusal to accept the senate reservations, long known but just officially communicated to the state department coupled with President Coolidge's refusal to alter those reservations in any way was the crowning blow that killed any chance of American adherence.

Senators of every shade of opinion apparently joined today in expressing satisfaction that the long controversy is ended. Even Senator Lenroot (R.) of Wisconsin, who led the administration's fight for adherence, said:

Affair Settled.

"That settles it so far as we are concerned. So long as the other members of the court do not desire us to go in on the terms laid down we will stay out."

Ther was much rejoicing on the part of the court's opponents. The

There's a hint in the air, an intangible thing, a sort of harbinger that feels like the Spring. A whiff now and then of a balmy-like breeze, that's welcome I know to the flowers and trees. A touch of the sun as it glints on the grass, a sight of a red breasted bird as I pass. A whisper that nearly eludes a chap's near, then its gone, but it whispers "the Spring's nearly here." It can't be defined, nor explained in a word, but its there in the actions of sod and of bird. A hint that I take and I welcome a heap, and soon 'twill be followed by many a cheep, of robins and thrushes, high up on a limb, all throating the lilts of the annual hymn. Oh, I welcome those signs that the Springtime is near, though it's still 32 and sombre and drear.

New Castle Council Greets Governor; Also Do Some State Capital Touring

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 10.—When the city council of New Castle goes a-visiting, they do a job of it, at least when the city to be visited is the capital of the state.

Wednesday mornig Councilmen Walter V. Tyler, D. O. Davies and Louis G. Genkinger of New Castle arrived in Harrisburg, for the purpose of getting the work of establishing the channel lines of the Shenango river established. They got what they came after, or at least the major part of it, but in addition they did a little official visiting.

Early in the afternoon they had an audience with Governor John S. Fisher and talked their mission over with him and also the possibilities of getting action on the Pymatuning swamp within the near future.

From there they called upon Register of Motor Vehicles Ben G. Eynon and visited the Senate and House chambers. With them was Senator George T. Weingartner and Representative Bart Richards.

There was one visit they made which was hardly official but was most interesting, and this was to the Harrisburg market house. Councilman Genkinger wanted to see the market house and the group went down.

Now back in his youth Mr. Genkinger was wont to consume large quantities of scrapple and smoked sausage and here in Harrisburg the Pennsylvania Dutch farmers pride themselves on their showing of these commodities in the market house.

Genkinger started on an orgy of buying which included a large package of scrapple to go with him, a larger package to be mailed to him, a package of loose pork sausage and several yards of smoked sausage.

The epidemic of buying spread to Tyler and Davies and Mr. Tyler checked in with a package of dried corn, a package of dried vegetables for soup and a pint of olives. Mr. Davies looked for a bunch of Welsh onions, known as leeks but couldn't find them, and declared that the market house was incomplete.

The trio looked like housewives when they left, but they got what they wanted, all except Mr. Davies who didn't get his leeks.

Babe Ruth Is After Salary Of $100,000

Thinks Other Teams In American League Should Help Pay Salary

IS TREMENDOUS DRAWING CARD

BY MILLER HOLLAND
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10.—Babe Ruth, famous American League home run king, believes he is a better player today than he was a year ago and consequently worth more money—about a $100,000 a year or so.

And because the Babe believes this he will return unsigned a New York Yankee contract offered him for a paltry $52,000.

Arthur A. McGovern, widely known New York trainer who is in Hollywood with the Babe, keeping him fit, is International News Service's authority for the above statements.

"Ruth is worth every cent of $100,000 as a ball player," McGovern declared today, "and if the Yankees cannot give him that entire sum I see no reason why every other team in the American League should not contribute a share to make up the $100,000 total.

"The Babe is as tremendous a drawing card in Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and every other American League city as he is in New York, and it would only be fair for these clubs to pay their share for Ruth's services.

"Ruth is in perfect physical condition, far better than he was a year ago, and as a direct result he is a better ball player now than he was a year ago, and if a year ago he was worth $52,000, he should be worth at least $100,000 today."

McGovern declared Ruth is going to report to the Yankee training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., on March 5 in spite of reports from New York that he would not be permitted to do so unless he had signed a contract.

Ruth is now acting in the movies.

river, and locate the channel lines. This is the first and important step. Following that the hydraulics will be made, then the maps, and lastly the placing of the markers. In all the work will cost approximately $5000.00.

The establishing of the channel lines of the stream will be an important step in the flood prevention measures which must be taken in New Castle. With the channel lines definitely established, it will be possible for the city to build walls, knowing that they are on the stream bank and not on private property. At present the channel lines are undetermined.

Corps Area. For training and instruction the troop would be attached to the Pennsylvania National Guard, but will be considered as Army troops.

Sixty In Troop

The personnel of the troop will be made up of a captain, who must be a qualified engineer, and a first and second lieutenants who have the qualifications for junior grade engineers. The enlisted personnel will consist of 60 men, although at the time of organization 50 is sufficient to get recognition. This must be increased to 60 in six months.

The only other like unit in the state at the present time is in Altoona, Pa., where Company A, is commanded by Captain Walter B. Allen.

The mounted engineers perform duties similar to dismounted engineers, building bridges, pontoons and working out various engineering problems.

From the interest displayed, it would not be surprising if the unit were accepted by this city. The offer upon the part of Adjutant General Frank D. Tense Situation Near Shanghai As Battle Continues

With Both Sides Heavily Armed Warfare Takes On Serious Complex

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 10.—Only meagre dispatches have been received from the war area today, but the latest available dispatches indicated that Sun Chuan Fang is still withstanding the Cantonese push for Shanghai.

With both sides heavily reinforced the warfare is reported to be approaching proportions of considerable magnitude and it is believed here that the present engagement will be decisive.

Tension has been increased here by the news that two British regiments have left Hong Kong for Shanghai. With the arrival of these troops it is feared there may be demonstrations by the Chinese which will lead to serious incidents. The Cantonese sympathizers in Shanghai are numerous and they may attempt to show their hostility to the British troops.

The negotiations at Hankow would also appear to be endangered by the latest British troop movement, since Eugene Chen, Nationalist leader, has declared that he will make no agreements if the British move troops to Shanghai.

Even City Cops Believe Spring Has Arrived

Chicken chasing season for the police of this city is now well under way and numerous calls are now being received by the police authorities for assistance in putting a stop to depredations by chickens of neighbors.

Few people seem to realize it, but the law states that persons owning chickens and residing in the city, must at all times, and not just in summer and garden season, keep the chickens shut up and not allowed to run at large.

Persons, whose chickens are allowed to run at large now or later and against whom complaints are made, will be required to pay fines.

So the best thing for all concerned is for the owners of chickens to keep them shut up.

ner of the West Side night court, acting Mayor McKee let it be known that policemen will be stationed today at each of the theatres raided, and arrests will be made if any attempt is made to re-open the theatres.

McKee said that police will use their dicretion in stopping any of these three shows that essay to reopen. They are empowered to halt the show before it gets under way, or stop it after it has started or, as last night, wait until the show is ended before making any arrests.

Similarly, such stars as Helen Menken, Basil Rathbone, Gail Kane and An Trevor, along with lesser members of the cast were, with the same politeness, ushered into waiting taxicabs. James Sinnott, secretary to the police department, personally aided in the arrests of Miss Menken and Miss Kane. Twelve "captives," were taken.

"The Virgin man" was the last to feel the strong arm of the law. Seven members of this cast joined the contingent in night court.

Assistant District Attorney Unger previously had arranged to hold the principals of the casts and managers in $1,000 bail and the lesser performers in $500. The "captives" will be arraigned in Jefferson Market court on Monday afternoon. The cast of "the Virgin man" will be arraigned at the same time and place, and the "sex" troupe will be heard in the West Side court on Tuesday afternoon.

Hockman In Clarion Jail

Police Secure No New Clues On Mather Brothers Robbery

Efforts of the state and city police to solve the Mather Brothers Company jewelry robbery are at a standstill today, although some good leads as to the possible identity of the thieves are being followed.

So far efforts made to connect members of the alleged gang of bank robbers captured at Knox, Pa., and here on Monday, have failed, both the state and local police having been unable to unearth any clue that will connect these men up with the robbery and lead to the recovery of the stolen gems.

Hockman, state and local police say, has admitted planning the bank robbery at Knox, Pa. He is ready, the state trooper say, to enter plea of guilty and take his medicine.

S. C. Earl will probably be tried at the February term of court in Clarion county, as the principal in the bank robbery and Hockman as an accessory, punishment in either case being the same. The other prisoners are still being held at the Butler barracks for further examination.

Hockman and Earl are now both lodged in the Clarion county jail.

TWO MILLS CUT MADE IN COUNTY RATE FOR YEAR

year will amount to $78,000, or a total of $265,000.

During the present commissioners' term some very heavy expenses have been necessary in road and bridge work. The county paid $81,000 on the Bessemer-Mt. Jackson improved highway, $114,000 on the Enon Valley road, $99,000 on the Mahoningtown bridge, and also paid a large amount on the Gardner avenue viaduct. The Enon road was completed on a 50-50 basis with the state.

Repairs to bridges and roads have also been a big item of expense. Considerable of this expense was incurred before the present board of county commissioners assumed charge. This was particularly true of the damage claims along the New Castle-Butler road.

The millage was based on the same valuations as last year, except for the additional valuations consequent upon new construction.

Miss Mary Zeigler of this city will leave March 1 for California, where she will spend several months. She will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Longhead of Youngstown, O.

Strong Message On Sin By Evangelist At Nazarene Church

Rev. Bona Fleming preached a very powerful sermon Wednesday evening at the Nazarene revival. His theme was on "The Sinner Asleep In His Sins."

The danger of drifting on in sin and the awful chance a man takes in neglecting to awake to his condition before it is too late was vividly pictured by the evangelist. He related many touching yet true incidents from observations in his ministry of people who put off their salvation too late.

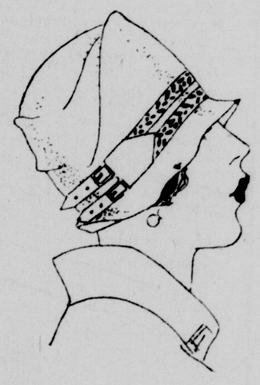

Rev. Schurman and Rev. Rowe sang a duet number, a negro spiritual entitled "Ain't Agoin To Grieve My Lord No More." There are just four more evenings of this series, the revival closing Sunday evening.

The meeting this evening begins at 7:30.

SETTLING WAGE BY AGREEMENT

ENGINEMEN and firemen of twenty-seven Eastern railroads have had their wages increased 7½ per cent. Recently conductors and trainmen were conceded a somewhat similar grant. The agreement was reached quietly and under the provisions of the new Watson-Parker law, which abolished the Railroad Labor Board. That board has never worked satisfactorily says the Philadelphia Inquirer. It pleased no one. Both the railroad managements and the employes were bitterly opposed to it. They united in indorsing a scheme which discarded old methods and relied, first, up mediation; second, upon arbitration, and third, these having failed to produce acceptable results, upon an emergency board called into being by the president of the United States.

This arrangement has been moving smoothly. There have been no long hearings, wasteful of time and of patience; no strikes; no threats of strikes. Representatives of the men met with representatives of the roads with a member of the Federal Board of Mediation present. In the first instance, that of the conductors and trainmen, the second stage—that of arbitration—was reached. In the present case—that of firemen and enginemen—the discussions were concluded in a fortnight and did not get beyond the first stage. All of which goes to show that where there is a will there is a way; that when employers and employes earnestly desire to be fair with each other they can do so without disturbing the public and maintain friendly relations.

We used to hear of the unending warfare between capital and labor. It was the stock cry of the agitator. The employe was the slave of Wall Street—grasping Wall Street. "The Interests" were unmerciful. It was a case of squeezing the lemon, otherwise the working man, dry and casting him aside for even cheaper labor. That was what we were told in the "good old days." But that stuff belongs to the past. Great corporations such as railroads are owned, not by Wall Street, but by countless thousands of the plain people. Every inducement is offered workers to become stockholders. Today most intelligent men in overalls are themselves capitalists, for that is what they become when they buy stock or invest in securities.

It is this ever-increasing tendency to save and become part owners of corporations that is establishing America on a financial foundation so secure, so strong, that propaganda from Moscow falls upon deaf ears and the preacher of violence and of communistic doctrines is spurned.

APPROACHING JOY TIME

THE call of spring!

Where winter's snows are unknown and the winds ne'er blow sold the call of spring may be of love and to poets. But in that very large portion of the United States where a very large number of automobiles are jacked-up on blocks for from two to four months of the year, the call of spring is the call of the open road.

It is just a matter of weeks now before the great American motor cavalcade—matched nowhere else on this globe—will again be on the move; and then for months big and little automobiles transporting big and little families will run up and down and back and forth across this broad country, for a first hand and panoramic view of which the automobile has imbued millions with sudden desire.

There is year-around motoring in virtually all quarters of this country—one of the blessings of good roads and snowplows—but auto touring between banks of snow and under a blanket isn't touring between banks of flowers and under a beaming sun.

Where real automobile weather is not due until March or even as late as May, there are millions of penned-in humans under as great suspense as a boy the day before Christmas. Last fall they probably had tired of motoring, but absence brings forgetfulness of congestion, traffic cops, blow-outs, engine trouble and the other things that take some of the joy out of following the gasoline trail.

Just a few years ago patriotic orators and transcontinental railroads deplored the paucity of Americans "seeing" America. Now economists and employers weep for the millions in dollars and labor-hours "wasted" each year by Americans who are "seeing America first."

THE VERY BEST MEN—

Differ only from the worst in their attitudes.
Know that they could be as evil as the worst.
Have some weaknesses they are ashamed if.
Must make a constant fight to keep at their best.
Are usually the most charitable of the weakest.
Can usually learn something from any of the rest.
Never succeeded through an accident.

LITTLE BABY

Little baby, little baby, in your mother's arms today
With her glad face ever ready to kiss every tear away,
And your daddy sitting near
Just pretending not to hear
All the pretty things and lovely that you're struggling so to say,
What a most important person you have grown to, anyway!

Little baby, little baby, you're so helpless and so small
Yet I'll vow you tiny tyrant, that you rule and own us all.
For we're either up or down
As you smile or as you frown
And we drop our tasks to serve you at your slightest beck and call;
At the first wee cry you utter we come racing down the hall.

Little baby, little baby, it's your praises that we shout
It's of you and all your doings that we ever talk about,
To your mother and to me
You are all we seem to see,
You're our most important topic now beyond the slightest doubt,
But you've made a nuisance of us every time that we go out.

Wages or Dividends?
Dante and Wall Street.
Decency Here and There.
Anybody, for a While.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

Wages were increased by 7 1-2 per cent for 22,000 more railroad men, about $3,300,000 will be spent annually by wives of workers, not in dividends. Call it bolshevism, if you must, but that seems a good idea.

There is plenty for all in this country, and those that have more than they need should think about permanent security, rather than about getting a little more.

Dante, inspecting hell, with Virgil for guide, was so impressed by the blasphemous courage of one fierce wretch. As he appeared for a moment above the boiling pitch, he raised his hand toward heaven, with an insulting gesture, then sank to torment once more.

Not all have such courage, and you should spare a sigh for the poor Wall Street bears that decided to get rich by selling Wheeling & Lake Erie short just when some real buyers want it. It sold for $27 not long ago, after many jumps, it went yesterday to $130, a jump of 35 points.

If you have never been a bear, you do not know what that means. The sun goes out, the sky turns black, the liver stops working. The moral is: "Don't be a bear at this time". That warning has been published often enough.

Montana's Senate has voted in favor of the constitutional amendment against child labor. The amendment may be lost, child labor being profitable, and profits hard to give up. But it is comfortable to see decency here and there.

In the end, of course, the amendment would help every state, just as the end of slavery helped all—including states that had the greatest sacrifices to make.

Child labor cheats grown men and women of work and cheats the next generation of its chance in life, to say nothing of mocking Christ's warning, "Their angels do always behold the fact of My Father, which is in heaven".

Child labor sends plenty of little angels to verify that text.

A witness at the government tax suit in Washington testified that the Ford Company could have gone on just about as well without Ford. He was not essential.

Sousa, the bandmaster, said: "Anybody can lead my band for a little while". The Ford Company had two great assets. Ford's industrial genius and the fact that high finances could not squeeze him, coax him or frighten him into the belief that his time had come to sell out.

Get money, put it out at compound interest, live to 100 years and you will be rich.

One hundred years ago Capt. Hugh Reid wanted to erect a Wallace-Bruce memorial, but lacked the full amount to honor the heroes. He left for the purpose 1,000 pounds, with orders to let it grow. Now it is 8,000 pounds, and the memorial will be built.

Time and compound interest work wonders. A dollar invested at the beginning of our era, at compound interest would be worth today more than a lump of gold as big as the earth. Save something.

Millions all over the United States and millions in foreign countries will hear President Coolidge plainly when he talks about Washington February 22. And listeners-in, 1,000 miles away, will hear the President's words before they are heard by those five yards away from the President — electricity travels around the earth while sound is traveling a few yards.

All that would surprise George Washington and make him proud to be still "first in the hearts of countrymen", able to perform such miracles. But if he returned, to find radio, telephones, flying machines, submarines, moving pictures, no wigs and bobbed ladies, he would say "put me back, it cannot be real".

Washington is agitated by talk of skyscrapers near the White House. They will destroy the beauty of that venerable building, critics say. But they won't.

Whatever is useful is beautiful. When, after Greely's death, his New York Tribune pushed a red and black building up nine stories into the air, many said: "it will ruin beautiful old city hall". It did not, and the Woolworth, close to the beautiful old city hall and nearly 60 stories high, has not ruined it, either.

This is the country of high buildings, and the higher the better. Let us see what we can do, and get ready gradually for the roof airplane landing, with elevators going down, before they go up.

CAN AN ENGLISHMAN SEE A JOKE?

Historical note.

The idea that an Englishman can't see the point of a joke is of long standing. It began when the second generation of Pilgrims began telling new-comers the one about the man who said: "No, that wasn't a lady, it was my wife."

Maybe it began even before that. At any rate, it is widely accepted today.

Stories of untold number have been retailed about the country concerning honest Britishers who burst into guffaws one day, two days, a week, even a month, after hearing a joke.

Many people in America even believe that a law had to be passed in London prohibiting the telling of jokes in vaudeville shows on Saturday night because so many people laughed out loud in church on Sunday.

As a matter of fact it seems that an Englishman can see the point of an American joke as well as anyone else.

But when he sees the point he doesn't see any humor in it.

He chuckles at a different brand of humor. What Americans think uproarious may not seem funny at all to him.

For instance, the old reliable one about the hunter who killed all the birds roosting on a quarter mile of zig-zag rail fence by bending the barrel of his gun to match the twisting of the fence, elicits no loud ha-ha on "The Tight Little Isle."

There it isn't a joke. It is just a lie.

Native American humor runs to absurdities and exaggerations; English humor to word-play, puns and personalities.

So when an Englishman doesn't laugh at an American joke it is not always indicative that he does not see the point: it just doesn't seem funny, perhaps.

Another source of the idea that the English can't see a joke is hinted at in the tale of the American who told "the latest from America" to an English friend.

When he finished he slapped his knee with glee, but his friend sat unmoved.

"Well, you will laugh at that next year," he said.

"Oh, no," blinked the Englishman, "I laughed at that last year."

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Evening Song," By Sidney Lanier.

This Southern poet was a fine musician as well as a writer of exquisite verse; and during the Civil War he fought on the Confederate side. He was taken prisoner, after running a blockade, and his captivity led, no doubt, to the pulmonary trouble which later caused his death in 1881. He also studied and practiced law for a time. His flowing lines, filled with beautiful descriptions of nature, have given him a lasting place in American literature. He is one of our quietest and noblest singers.

Look off, dear Love, across the sallow sands.
And mark yon meeting of the sun and sea.
How long they kiss in sight of all the lands.
Ah! longer, longer, we.

Now in the sea's red vintage melts the sun,
As Egypt's pearl dissolved in rosy wine,
And Cleopatra night drinks all.
'Tis done,
Love, lay thy hand in mine.

Come forth, sweet stars, and comfort heaven's heart;
Glimmer, ye waves, round else unlighted sands.
O night! divorce our sun and sky apart,
Never our lips, our hands.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHERE THERE IS DIGNITY.

One walking the long corridor between the House and Senate wings of the United States Capitol at certain hours of the day, may find his way barred by a rope covered with purple velvet. A short distance away is another rope. The two in parallel form a lane six to eight feet wide. If one waits—and in face of a two inch rope, and an efficient attendant, one does wait,—he will see one or more gentlemen covered from neck to heels with black robes pass between the ropes. Thus do the Justices of the United States Supreme Court go into or out of session.

Suppose now that it is Monday, which is the court decision day. The Justices have successfully negotiated the roped-off lane under the eyes of a group of curious sightseers, which is sure to gather on either side. If is a few minutes before 12:00 o'clock noon, and the court has passed to the ante-room of its chamber. In the chamber itself are a collection of lawyers, Senators and Congressmen, newspaper correspondents and Capitol visitors fortunate enough to get a seat. All sit facing the big bench with nine empty chairs. At one end of this bench is the clerk of the court and his assistance. At the other end is a young man. The clerk and the young man wear spike tailed coats.

On the stroke of twelve the court marches in. The Justices are led by the court marshal and his assistant who also wear spike tailed coats. The clerk and his assistant rise and face the approaching judges. The spectators rise. The young man also is on his feet, and for the moment he is the chief actor in this little tableau. In a resonant base he announces that "The honorable, the Supreme Court of the United States," is about to go into session. The Justices take their places. The young man's resonant base rings out with "Oyez! Oyez! Oyez!" After this preliminary he announces that the court is sitting and all are admonished to give attention. He concludes this way: "God save the United States and this honorable court."

Probably the young man who cries, "O yez" won't like to see it printed, but it must be said nevertheless that he is an exceedingly handsome individual, whose spike tailed coat fits as though he had been poured into it. And his voice seems to come from the very bottom of his feet without the least effort on his part. Certainly there never was a man so eminently fitted to cry "Oyez" for the United States Supreme Court.

All ceremony ceases abruptly now. Without introduction or warning of any sort, one of the justices announces that he has the opinion of the court in such and such a case, and proceeds to read it. He may have one or more opinions to read. When he has finished, another justice begins reading other opinions. This proceeds in inverse order of seniority until the chief justice is reached. He reads what opinions he may have and also announces the orders of the court affecting various other cases before it. After each opinion is read the newspaper correspondents sitting at little tables just under the bench write their bulletins and pass them to the court page boys, who carry them to waiting messengers in the halls.

When the Supreme Court is not rendering opinions, it is hearing cases argued. There passes before it a steady parade of lawyers ranging from those whose fees are expressed in six figures to those whose bar examination is still a fresh memory. The justices of the Supreme Court do not distinguish, unless it be in the direction of a little extra effort to put the younger man at his ease by show of courtesy and consideration. There are scores of attorneys who have come before the court with dry lips and quaking knees to have confidence restored by the kindly attitude of one or more of those men on the bench.

Neither does this courtesy stop with the bench. In the outer offices there are the Stansbury brothers, Mr. Dilli, the assistant clerk, Mr. Green, the marshal, and others who are as fine gentlemen as one will meet in all Washington.

There are two anecdotes about the Supreme Court which are classics. One concerns the crier of a day gone by—not the present crier. The man was nervous and on his first venture with "God save the United States and this honorable court," he substituted a word. What he said was "God save the United States from this honorable court."

Former Justice Day was a wisp of a man; not very tall, but very thin. He had a son, William Day, who is one of the leaders of the Bar in Cleveland. The son is not a wisp of a man at all. He is a strapping fellow. Day, Junior, was presented one session with other attorneys for admission to the Bar of the Supreme Court. It was naturally a proud day for the father, and the other justices shared some of this feeling. They regarded the young man with interest. One justice looked at him quite closely, and noted his size. "Block off the old chip, isn't he?" he whispered to Justice Day.

On the Supreme Bench next to Chief Justice Taft sits a man whose wealth of pure white hair contrasts strikingly with the black of his judicial robes. Uncountable little lines play about the eyes; not the lines of age, but those that come only to a face which smiles often and understandingly. This is Oliver Wendell Holmes, son of the American poet. His body bears the scars of three Civil War wounds. His shoulders bear 85 years of this life, and they bear them more erectly than those of many men half the age.

What's this? Mellon sends us notice to pay $6.13 in back taxes, and we have no connection with Senator Couzens.

Start Move For New State Road

East Brook Meeting Results In Movement Being Started

WILL SEEK TO HAVE STATE TAKE OVER ROAD

An organization to be known as the Hickory-Scott-Washington Good Roads Organization was initiated last night at the Eastbrook Methodist church. The organization has as their purpose the taking over by the state of the road from New Castle to the Perry Highway at a point south of Leesburg via Eastbrook, McConnell's Mill through Scot township and the center of Washington township.

The plan is to ask the state to take over this road from the New Castle city line to the point where it joins the Perry Highway which is now a state road. This would include the macadamized road which goes as far as Eastbrook and the ash road by way of McConnell's Mill, Carr's school and thus on through to a point near Leesburg.

A large attendence of the citizens of Hickory, Scott and Washington townships were present at the meeting in spite of the muddy condition of certain roads that kept a larger crowd away. Over a hundred enthusiastic supporters of good roads were present including owners of property along the route and adjacent territory as well as several citizens from New Castle and other communities.

Elect Officers

The officers elected for the organization were J. L. Pherson of Washington township as president, Jesse Carr of Washington township as secretary, and Frank Waddington of Hickory township as treasurer.

A motion was passed that a membership committee be appointed and that all members of the organization be charged a fee of one dollar annually to finance the movement.

Mr. Pherson opened the discussion by telling how by having this road taken over by the state a sum of money would be released that would allow the maintainance of most all the other roads of the district so as to keep them in a good condition. Mr. Walton, supervisor of Hickory township said that $1,300 had been spent by Hickory township this year on their portion of the road and that the macadam road cost the county $2,000 for maintainance alone.

Attorney James Chambers in a well worded speech said that he had no financial interest in the project but that any fairminded citizen of this county would have to admit that the three townships deserve this road as that part of the county has been neglected. For, he said, while there are 90 miles of improved road in Lawrence county, only one of these 3 townships has any improved road and that is a state-aid road of only 3½ miles.

Frank Waddington spoke of how all should get back of the movement, for an improved road would be of great benefit both to the townships and to the city of New Castle for the greater amount of trade that would be brought to the city which is now drawn to other markets by better roads.

Rev. St. Claire and William Johnston told how other roads had been secured and that this organization should follow the same methods. That way is by uniting our influence and encouraging the support of our state legislators and representatives from other counties to secure the passage of a bill making this a state road.

Other speakers who pledged their support were B. F. Ruby, Howard Stuart and many others. W. M. Drake of near Volant spoke in support of the road going by way of Volant.

Sheriff Reynolds Declares War On "Petting Parties"

Farmer Vigilantees Will Assist County Officials In Cleaning Up Nuisance

War on "petting parties" was declared by Sheriff H. M. Reynolds and his deputies this morning following numerous complaints made to the sheriff during the past few weeks.

A majority of the complaints have come from Union township but all the nearby townships have asked the aid of Sheriff Reynolds in breaking up what they claim to be "unbearable conditions."

It is alleged by farmers that automobiles in which the "petting" is done, block private lanes and highways that are seldom used. Conduct of the "petters' in many instances is simply shocking. Many seem to have lost all sense of decency.

During the warm weather of the past week or ten days, more reasons for complaints have developed. Machines are found parked in lanes nightly. Often residents cannot get to their own properties.

Sheriff Reynolds says that it is a condition that shall not exist any longer. The "petters" are to be handled without gloves. He plans to give all the publicity possible to "catches" which he may make and where the conditions warrant, arrests will be made.

The sheriff says that he will organize farmers in to sort of a vigilance committe to assist in breaking up the nuisance. Farmers are asked to get names of people in machines blocking private drives and where they cannot get the names take the automobile numbers.

Tickets Ready For Legion Banquet

Tickets for the Washington Birthday Banquet to be given by the American Legion on February 21 have been distributed to the various banquet committees.

These tickets can be obtained from any member of the committees or from the caretaker of the Legion Home at the corner of North Jefferson and Falls street. On account of many coming from the other posts of the district attending there is only a limited number of tickets so each person is urged to facilitate the committees by securing their tickets early. Beaver and Butler counties will be represented this year as well as Lawrence county.

Abandoned Car Found On Street

Walter Robinson, of the McCoy Garage on North Mill street, reported to the police between two and three o'clock this morning, that he heard the sound of breaking glass and on looking out saw three young men running up Mill street.

The police on investigation found that a stick had been thrown through a large sign at Trinity Episcopal church at the corner of Mill and Falls streets and also an abandoned car, which had evidently been tampered with on North Mill street, near Falls street.

This morning John B. Thorson of 424 Fairmont avenue, reported that his Chevrolet touring car, 1924 model, Pennsylvania license No. 452-242 had been stolen from the alley along side of his home about midnight.

Officers Augostine and Lynch were detailed and found that the abandoned car was the stolen machine. The thieves, evidently the three young men running up Mill street, had let the radiator run dry and cracked the engine. Before leaving the machine, which they had evidently tried to crank, they had removed the motometer and other things of value from the machine.

Mrs. Linda Seymour Writes To Folks Here From African Mission

The appended letter was received from Mrs. Linda Thompson Seymour, who was married to Arthur Seymour of Hancock, N. Y., at her home on Crawford avenue, this city, September 1, 1923.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour volunteered for service as missionaries in French Equatorial Africa under a Faith Board. They left New York on November 26, 1923, to sail for France to learn the language, and take a medical course in London, to be of greater service in the field.

While in Paris, a son, David was born and later in London a delicate little girl, Grace, was born. Her parents were advised to leave her in London with friends on account of the tropical climate to which they were going. When going up the Congo river they witnessed for the first time the natives capturing a large snake and cooking and eating it.

Arriving on the field after a 50 day journey they found the work well under way with great opportunities for service.

Mrs. Seymour wrote the following by request.

The Letter

Fort Sibut
Oubangi-Chari,
Dec. 8, 1926.

Dear Friends:

In a recent letter from my "Dad" he said that some of my old friends would like to hear from me so I will write one letter to you all.

It does seem a long time to us since we left New Castle but so many, many things have happened that it hardly seems possible that it has been so long. However at last we are really settled in Africa and would be more than glad to receive any of you at any time.

We are all alone now as the workers who started this work are home on furlough. Are we kept busy? Well, I'm sure you would think that you were if you had charge of a farm of over 100 acres and had around one hundred men and boys working for you. Of course there at home you wouldn't have so many working on a place this size but at home the grass don't grow at the rate of a foot a week either. Then of course the men don't hurt themselves working.

We have a fine large Chapel and there are over 400 here who have taken Christ as their Saviour and have been baptized. We have at least seven services a week and Arthur has French reading classes four or five days a week. Then every morning we have a young hospital for there is always someone cutting their toe or something.

I am starting a young girls' meeting this next week and I hope to teach them to sew. Although it's hard to know just what to start on as their wardrobes consists of one tassel worn in front and one tassel for the back. This is worn until it wears out and then they make new ones, out of either a straw stuff of leaves.

We would like to invite you all over to see our big banana patch and of course sample some of the fruit, also pineapples and pawpaws. We have a pretty good garden but this is the dry season and all water must be carried, thus making it a bit harder to keep things in good shape.

We have seen our first leopard, dead, but I can assure you I would hate to meet the fellow at night, alive. The leopards are quite common around here but we haven't had any visits from lions as yet. However there are many hyenas, antelopes, and snakes of all descriptions, not to mention the lizards, mice, bugs, etc., that are as common as flies.

Arthur just returned from a ten day trip to Bangassou, a large village about a four days' auto trip from here. David and I had a great time keeping things running during his absence. We entertained the French Official's wife at "Tea" and enjoyed her visit very much, especially since we don't see very many white folks any more.

We are all very well just now, in spite of the heat. I would be safe in saying that it is hot here now, about eight o'clock in the morning as it is in the afternoon of a good hot day there at home. Think of it getting hotter every day in December. As you can well imagine it is hard for us to realize that Christmas is so near. We will have a little tree if we can find anything that will serve that purpose.

Just a word about the workmen here. I don't want you to think that we are paying them as most of you are being paid. Our highest paid workmen get 30 francs a month and as our last check brought us 30 francs to the dollar you see it won't amount to so terribly much. Of course things are going up all the time especially food so that we may have to start paying them more soon.

At this rate you see, we can keep a native evangelist out on the road for one franc a day which is about three cents. There is almost always some one out telling the story of Jesus and His love and really some of their reports are thrilling.

Now I must stop for this time or this will be more like a young book than a letter. May God bless you richly throughout this coming New Year is the prayer of your friends.

LINDA SEYMOUR AND FAMILY.

P. S. You remember that we left our little girl Grace in London. She is getting on just fine; her last picture certainly doesn't look much like the tiny baby that we left. While we would love to see her yet we are thankful that she is well and happy with the friends there, especially are we thankful when we see David having the fever every so often.

Home-made Supply of Fine Cough Syrup
Better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about $2. Easily prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this home-made syrup, easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup, or clarified honey, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the throat tickle and heals the irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and it is splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations to break severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Message Inside This Letter Is Meant For You Too

WHAT IS IT?

Several weeks ago we received this letter. It was one we were expecting—hoping for—looking for. It meant as much to us as any letter we had ever received. It contained a message of vast importance to us AND TO YOU. It brought to a successful close weeks—even months — of constant planning and figuring —it meant one of the biggest things of the year.

The message on that letter is real — and when it was opened and read it thrilled us JUST AS IT WILL THRILL YOU. And now after weeks of effort, of planning, of hard work, we are going to make that letter public. When you see it—read every word—grasp the real significance of the matter—study over it —think. Then you'll agree it means just AS MUCH TO YOU as it does to us.

Democrats Are Gleeful Over G. O. P. Outbreak

Democrats Joyfully Welcome Recent Outbreak And Dissension In G. O. P. Camp

BUTLER SPEECH STARTS ACTION

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. — Most of the Democratic leaders in the capital wore broad smiles today.

Burned and singed by the incessant warfare within their own party, the Democrats joyfully welcomed the outbreak of dissension and strife in Republican ranks over prohibition and the third term issue, and they plan to feed the fires of G. O. P. discord with plenty of oil.

"Its manna from a political heaven," said one Democrat, referring to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's speech, in which the distinguished Ne wYork Republican leader read President Coolidge out of the running in '28 on the ground another term would be his third.

Democratic strategy is to keep it constantly before the country. They take the position that they didn't start it, hence they cannot be accused of initiating sabotage against the administration.

A resolution, written by Senator T. H. Caraway (D) of Arkansas, probably will be presented in the senate before adjournment which declares it to be the sense of the senate that no man should seek to break down the tradition against a third term in the white house. Such a measure is bound to provoke considerable debate, and admittedly it has a chance of passage.

Friends of Mr. Coolidge, of course, will oppose it—not only on the ground that it is "a political measure designed to embarrass the President of the United States," but also on the theory that Mr. Coolidge has only had one elective term, and thus the resolution is designed to deny him his rightful claim to another term.

The authorities on precedents dug up one for the Caraway resolution today.

Cite Grant Case

In 1875, when Ulysses S. Grant was casting kindly eyes toward a third term, the house adopted by a vote of 233 to 18 a resolution declaring it to be the sense of that body that no man should seek a third term. The overwhelming majority of that vote was no small instrumentality in preventing the renomination of Gen. Grant.

Some of the more conservative Democratic leaders are inclined to question the political expediency of such a resolution as Caraway has prepared. They take the position that Democratic tactics of that sort will only lead to "sympathy" for Mr. Coolidge, and tend to solidify the Republicans behind him. They believe, if just let alone, the Republican party is headed toward a serious split on the question anyway, and that it is better strategy to "let well enough alone."

A majority of the Democrats, however, welcome the Caraway move. So do some of the Republican insurgents who are opposed to Mr. Coolidge's renomination. So, in fact, do some of the supposedly "regular" Republicans who, while publicly supporting the President, are known privately to be strongly opposed to his renomination.

A Democratic-Insurgent coalition has shown time and again in this congress that it can muster a majority. Hence the Caraway resolution has a chance of passage. It is believed, however, that sufficient votes could be mustered to beat it, if, indeed, it ever comes to a vote. Even those Republican regulars who are known to secretly oppose Mr. Coolidge for another term would hardly at this stage of the game care to come out openly and align with his opponents. It wouldn't, they say, be "good politics."

LADY EXPERT COMING TO HELP RUPTURED WOMEN

Demonstrates Rice Method Free To All

Mrs. B. F. Finnegan, representing William S. Rice, Adams, N. Y., inventor of the famous Rice (Non-Surgical) Method for Rupture will be at Leslie Hotel, New Castle, Pa., Friday and Saturday, February 11 and 12, also at the Grand Hotel, Beaver Falls, Pa., Monday and Tuesday, February 14 and 15 to demonstrate a new special corset attachment that holds any rupture no matter how large. Even if the abdomen is very fleshy, it holds any rupture with ease, comfort and security.

Special Combined Rupture and Corset Back Support.

Every woman who has been compelled to wear an ordinary truss or abdominal support knows the gouging, cutting and chafing caused by narrow bands. The weight of the abdomen or pressure necessary in holding the rupture must be carried by the band around the back, and the pressure is sometimes very great, causing untold suffering. The special, broad supporting corset back distributes the pressure so as to do away with all cutting and chafing.

There are thousands of women who are in perfect misery because they cannot find anything that will hold their rupture and the abdomen at the same time. The appliances usually worn are hot, bulky, chafing and irritating. But this wonderful Combined Corset Back Support is light, flexible, durable and cool and fits the figure like a glove. It gives you a sense of absolute comfort and protection while at the same time greatly improving abdominal outlines.

Trusses in common use are not adapted to women and often do great harm. Women therefore, suffer more and are in greater danger from rupture than men, and all women, who have ruptures or who wear an abdominal support of any kind should not fail to call and see this wonderful Combined Corset Back Support. No description or illustration can fully convey the remarkable utility of this splendid Support. It must be seen; it must be put on to convince any woman that it was designed for her.

Mrs. Finnegan takes a large woman just as she is, all out of shape and unsightly and by this remarkable Corset Support gives her a natural, neat, trim figure.

She will also give full instructions on how to handle and care for any rupture, large or small. She will show how to hold any kind of rupture from the simple groin and femoral to the large and difficult Navel and after Operation Ruptures, without chafing or squeezing, also how to wear the corset correctly.

Don't let this great opportunity get away from you. Don't continue to suffer the burden of rupture and truss wearing when it is so entirely unnecessary. Your call on this Lady Expert is sure to prove one of the best things you ever did. She will be there only two days, then your opportunity will be gone. The fitting and demonstration are free. It don't cost you a penny to learn all about the Rice Method and the wonderful opportunity for help it offers in your case. After demonstration you can purchase the Outfit required if you wish.

Call any time from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or 7 to 8 evenings. Just ask at the hotel desk for the Rice Representative and she will do the rest.

Local Remington And Rand Kardex Already Merged

Two Concerns In National Merger By Coincidence Are Located In Same Office Here

By a peculiar co-incidence, the merger yesterday of the Remington Typewriter Company, Rand-Kardex Bureau, Dalton Adding Machine Company and Baker-Vawter Loose Leaf Company, announced in New York, was consummated here several months ago.

Local representatives of the companies knew nothing of the proposed merger, but it is found that the Remington Typewriter company and the Rand-Kardex Company offices in this city are already in the same office room and have been for several months.

V. R. White, manager of the Remington Agency here, says that there was no information of the merger before yesterday, and the fact that the two local organizations were in the same office was but a happy co-incidence.

Pity Poor Congressman! He Has Real Hard Work

LINCOLN MEMORIAL L. WASHINGTON.

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—A member of congress' job, conscientiously attended to is about as strenuous a job as there is.

A big business man passes on a lot of his work to subordinates. About all he has to be is a good judge of helpers. Having built up a competent staff of chief assistants he can sit back and take the credit for what they do.

A professional man's duties are more personal. A doctor for instance has to do a large share of his own doctoring. Still even physicians when they get to the top of the heap, unload the details of their cases onto young deputy medicos.

The very president of the United States trusts to department heads.

A congressman has to hoe his own row. He may be lazy about it but if he hoes neatly and throughly it makes him hump.

* * *

A congressman has a secretary, to be sure and his secretary often has several assistants but after all they only jump as the congressman pulls the strings.

To begin with he gets a raft of mail. No doubt he chucks a great deal o' it over to his clerical help to answer but he has to know what's in it if he's to stay in congress long. Let him once lose touch with his constituency and he's a goner. Perhaps his district's politically so one-sided that he can't be beaten in an election but somebody else in his own party always is on hand, given the least show, to fight him in the primaries.

It's the fashion to speak of congressmen as pretty poor sticks but the fact is that some very wise individuals come to Washington and they all know their p's and q's in politics or they don't last— except as accidents for a term or two.

Furthermore a real congressman has a deal of studying to do.

Not only if he has a genuine sense of duty must he keep posted on pending legislation in general but he must everlastingly have an eye out for good and bad bills as related to the particular section he represents.

A proposition that's meat for New England frequently is poison for the corn belt or vice versa or somewhere else.

The worse the kick a measure has in it the surer it is to be fixed up so it looks as mild as Mary's little lamb. A good congressman has too see what's underneath through the slickest disguise.

* * *

A congressman has his legislative duties to attend to. They occupy him from noon until 4 or 5 o'clock usually six days a week.

His correspondence eats up most of his forenoons.

He has committee meetings to attend every day or two.

He has bills to read and analyze and frame up o'nights.

And nobody is so subject to interruptions. Everybody wants things from a congressman. He has telephone calls and visitors dropping him to see him everlastingly.

Every little while some highly important personage or a whole delegation turns up in his office with a tremendous issue he's urged to take care of and the conference lasts several entire days. In the meantime the poor congressman's work piles up. These are the times that try congressional souls.

A congressman's job looks easy to a casual caller in his office but just camp there for a while and watch him perform continuously. Unless he's one of the dummies, it's no snap.

Gives Advice to Expectant Mothers

"I ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 15 minutes with each."
Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Used daily, externally, it soothes the nerves and muscles as month follows month. Finally it makes childbirth a joy!
The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.
Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists everywhere.

"Fine In Washer" Says Sumner Ave. Woman:

The water here used to almost drive me frantic until my grocer persuaded me to try Rinso in my washer. But, since I've been using it washday never bothers me. Rinso alone, without a water softener, makes such creamy suds that you don't have to do any hard rubbing or boiling at all! Why, I always have the clothes on the lines in about two hours time. And so white and unharmed! I use Rinso for all the other cleaning too—dishes, floors, woodwork, everything. I even keep a package in the bathroom for the tiles, sinks and bathtub!

MRS. M. S. PATTERSON,
515 Sumner Avenue,
New Castle, Pennsylvania.

Millions use Rinso. Thousands write us letters like this.

Just think! This snowy wash never touched a washboard —it was just soaked whiter!

AND this is only one wash. Millions of washes all over the country are now being soaked whiter every washday.

Women everywhere are giving up old-fashioned washday habits. Why scrub and boil when this way soaks clothes cleaner! Whiter and brighter than ever!

It's the Rinso suds that do it. Here are real suds that loosen dirt and stains—not just soap bubbles. Rinso makes the hardest water soapy all through.

Easy on clothes and hands

It's such fun to rinse off the creamy Rinso suds and find the wash whiter—without one bit of hard rubbing! Hands stay young, clothes wear longer, when the wash is done this gentle way.

Now you don't even need to boil the wash. Rinso whitens and sterilizes without boiling. And it's so safe. Contains no acids, bleaches or harmful chemicals.

See for yourself, next washday, how a tubful of rich Rinso suds soaks your wash spotless. It's all you need—no bar soaps, chips or powders.

Get Rinso from your grocer. For economy and best results follow the easy directions on the package.

In washing machines, too

Rinso is great for washers. The makers of 30 leading machines recommend it for safety, and for a whiter, brighter wash.—Lever Bros. Co.

Man Who Enlisted In New Castle Was In Lincoln Guard

S. C. Foster of Sharpsville, who enlisted in New Castle in 1862 in the 14th Pennsylvania Cavalry, was one of the guards at the funeral of Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday will be observed next Saturday. In telling of his experience yesterday Mr. Foster says that never in his life did he witness such a crowd of people. As the casket was carried from the White House it became necessary for the guard to proceed with fixed bayonets to make a pathway to the hearse.

At the time Lincoln was killed an attempt was also made on the lives of members of his cabinet, which resulted in Secretary of State Seward being wounded. During the time he was wounded Mr. Foster and his comrades were assigned to the duty of guarding the bedroom in which he was confined.

The Foster family had the distinction of having 14 enlisted in the Civil War. Seven were S. C. Foster's brothers and seven were younger brothers of his father. Mr. Foster is now 82 years old and enjoys good health.

18 Aliens Confess Illegal Entry And Await Deportation

STEUBENVILLE, O., Feb. 10.—Agents of the immigration bureau at Pittsburgh rounded up 18 aliens here last night and took them to Pittsburgh today for deportation. All are charged with having made illegal entry into the United States.

The investigation here was in charge of F. J. Dever of the Pittsburgh bureau. Seventeen of the prisoners are East Indians and Arabs who, Dever says, admitted jumping from a ship in New York harbor and swimming ashore. They had been working in the steel mills here. The other is Max Simon, a Roumanian, who was found working in a brother's meat market here. He admitted having been smuggled over the Canadian border in an automobile.

All Boys In 5B Grade In Croton Public School Have Perfect Record

A record has been made by 15 boys of the 5B grade in the Croton school that would be hard to equal in any school. The 15 boys, who are all the boys of the class, had a perfect attendance for all the semester, starting from the very first day of the year last September. Miss Ruth E. Drescher was their teacher.

And to continue the good record the boys are continuing their reputation this semester in 5A under their present teacher, Miss Eva Coulter. The girls of the class also had a good attendance, but on account of several cases of sickness could not equal the record made by the boys.

Every effort was made by the boys to keep this attendance record perfect. A great spirit of co-operation has been instilled. On the day of the Santa Claus parade one of the boys did not appear, so a delegation was sent to see what was the matter. He was really sick, but the boys pleaded so much that he was bundled up and the boys took him to school and also enabled him to see the parade, as well as keep their record up to 100 per cent. The effort must have done him good, for he was soon well again.

The boys who belong to this banner class are: Joe Bonfield, Tony Farise, Albert Grossman, Albert Kenst, Adolph Lastoria, Emil Long, Patsy Massaro, Ralph McCormick, Pete Micco, Robert Rodgers, Joe Lesta, Harry Valentino, Frank Waddlinger, Walter Wansitler and William Haering.

Accuse German Poet And Editor With Sabotage

Claim Poem Written About Naval Men Disgrace To German Race

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—The alleged sale of beer on board the German Cruiser Hamburg and flirtations of the crew with California beauties, while the vessel was anchored off Pacific Ports, figures in a trial in the Berlin courts today.

Erich Weinert author of a caustic poem entitled "Exploits" attacking the alleged actions of the crew and officers of the Hamburg, and Herr Von Essietsky, editor of the Montag Morgen which published the poem, were charged with a public insult to the German navy.

The public prosecutor demanded that both be fined 500 marks due to Weinert's poem stating the conduct of the naval men was a disgrace to the German people.

Public Library Will Celebrate Birthday Event

The New Castle Public Library will celebrate its First Birthday in the new home, Saturday, February 12th.

The librarians feel that as a birthday anniversary is usually a time for bringing of birthday gifts, it will be well to suggest a few suitable gifts for the library.

They have in their possession some interesting books and relics which cannot be kept on display because their is no place in which they may be shown, therefore, they are rarely to be seen. A glass museum case would afford space and opportunity to display these.

A glass top for a table in the children's department would permit maps, and pictures to be displayed within easy reach of the children.

It is thought desirable to bind the Lineage Books sent to the Library by the Daughters of the American Revolution. They will cost approximately $1.50 to bind, and if anyone wishes to give this amount to bind one book it will be appreciated.

The library has been used more in the past year than ever before, which seems to indicate that people enjoy its new home and additional facilities. Every person in New Castle is entitled to borrow books and it is believed that every citizen will rejoice in the library's birthday.

The two old cars will be offered as part payment on the new cars.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

For Bladder Relief Is Nature's Danger Signal. Columbus Minister's Wife Relates Experience.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell, 824 No. Park St., Columbus, Ohio, says: "My wife was troubled seriously with bladder irritation until we used lithiated buchu (Keller Formula). She would have to get up 6 to 8 times each night. Will gladly answer any letter."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the bladder as epsom salts on the bowels. Drives out foreign matter and decreases excessive acidity, thereby relieving irritation. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Paisley's Pharmacy.

Mothers-Daughters Of Trinity Church To Have Banquet

Mrs. Lois Thompson, Dean Of Grove City College, To Make Address of Evening

One of the most successful events of the year in the life of Trinity has been the annual Mothers' and Daughters' banquet cooked and served by the men of the parish under the leadership of the Men's club. It promises to be a bigger success than ever this year, because everyone is working for it with enthusiasm and unanimity. The women have the sale of tickets and the program in charge and have succeeded in carrying out their ambition to secure a woman of marked ability and prominence in the life of the nation as the speaker of the evening.

She is Mrs. Lois Cory Thompson, a graduate of Ohio Western Reserve university, who then spent four years in study at Dresden, Germany. After the death of her husband, she became head of the Department of Music, Grove City college, and then Dean of Women, a position she has held for some time. Loved by all types of girls, with a special thought for those who are less fortunate, Mrs. Thompson is in constant demand as a speaker before Women's clubs, etc., because of her thorough knowledge of young womanhood. For this she has had more than ordinary opportunities, as she was the chairwoman of a committee of the American College Deans association which made a survey of the recreations, social activities, systems of government, etc. in all of the institutions of higher learning attended by women in the United States. She has spoken at the national meetings of the Woman's Educational conferences. Her daughter, Miss Deborah Thompson, is a teacher in the Senior High school of this city.

The Mothers' and Daughters' banquet is next Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Guild room of Trinity church.

Tax Assessment Suit Originated From Newberry

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The origin of the government's $30,000,000 tax assessment against the minority stockholders of the Ford Motor Company was revealed today to have been in the famous fight over Senator Truman H. Newberry's admission to the United States senate.

David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue, on the stand today before the U. S. board of tax appeals, revealed that it was a letter from Senator James E. Watson, R., of Indiana, which started the treasury to investigating the original treasury valuation.

Dinner To Coolidges By Secretary Work Puzzling To Society

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Capital society and politicians were still puzzled today over the nature of Secretary of the Interior Work's dinner to President and Mrs. Coolidge Tuesday night, and although thirty-six hours have elapsed no one as yet has come forward with a plausible reason for the cabinet officer's decison to turn the annual affair into what amounted to an official function.

For yeaps it has been the custom of each member of the cabinet to arrange a small and informal dinner in honor of the chief executive. These dinners have been held in the privacy of the home, or, where the department head resides in a hotel, in a private dining room. Only a few intimate friends of the cabinet officer have been invited.

Yet Work engaged the spacious Pan American Union building which the state department employs for state functions. The Marine Band played for the occasion.

Instead of a few intimate friends, his guests included the greatest figures in the financial world—Ford, Firestone, Guggenheim, Eastman, Ogden Reid, P. T. Crowley and others. Rockefeller, Schwab, Gary and Curtis were invited but unable to attend.

Present also were Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador. Rare have been the occasions when other cabinet officers have attended these gatherings, and never—at least in the memory of the oldest correspondents—has a foreign envoy graced the board.

The arrival of the President and Mrs. Coolidge was announced by a fanfare of trumpets and the presidential ruffle. Every other feature of the dinner was in keeping with this ultra-formality.

Those who follow the ways of society—and politics—are still guessing.

Big Navy Bloc To Force Issue

By WILLIAM S. NEAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Spurred on by the ringing declaration of Speaker Nicholas Longworth for a strong navy, the "big navy" bloc of the house today prepared to again force the preparedness issue with President Coolidge.

The opportunity is expected to come with disagreement between senate and house conferees on the three-cruiser amendment to the $315,000,000 naval supply bill, adopted in the senate over Mr. Coolidge's protest.

McCullough's Death May Affect Plans For Third League

Death Removes Leading Figure In Plans For Third Big League

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 10.—Sportsmen here today believed that the death of William Tice McCullough, one of the guiding figures of the old Federal League and leader in a movement to organize a third major baseball circuit this season would prove a fatal blow to plans for resurrection of the third league interest.

McCulloug's sudden death of heart disease here late yesterday afternoon came at the conclusion of months of activity on his part in sounding out sentiment for this third league, and it was believed that it was principally through his interest several prominent sportsmen gave his plan serious consideration.

McCullough said shortly before his death that he had made visits to sportsmen in a half dozen of the largest cities in the East, and had been promised that if he succeeded in whipping his new league idea into shape he might be assured of financial backing.

McCullough's idea reached its climax in popular interest when it was reported he had succeeded in forming an alliance with Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker shortly after the late scandal, and plan to build his league around their popularity. Settlement of their differences with organized baseball, however, gave McCullough's plans a severe setback, and it believe that his death removes the principal figure in revival plans.

Cruiser Appropriation Stirs Both Congress And President

Second-Line Cruiser "Seattle"; Average Cost This Type, $5,570,792

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. — It looks as if President Coolidge and congress would go to the mat over the "cruiser amendment" to the naval appropriation bill.

This bill has been kicking up a tremendous disturbance in Washington lately.

The amount of money involved is small, as government money is counted, but the principle involved is vital. It is:

Is a Republican president boss of a Republican congress, or isn't he?

* * *

Some time ago congress authorized three new cruisers, but voted no money to build them. They were just blue prints.

The present naval appropriation bill provides for ten more blue prints. Some of the lawmakers thought an actual start ought to be made on the original three. They didn't ask for enough to build the boats but they did want $450,000 to begin building them.

President Coolidge objected.

Against his wishes the $450,000 was put into the appropriation bill in the form of an amendment. The house of representatives beat the amendment, but by a very narrow margin.

The bill went up to the senate, minus the $450,000. The senate wrote $1,200,000 in place of it, in the form of another amendment, and passed it, 49 to 27.

* * *

The bill went to conference with indications that the house of representatives would agree to the senate's $1,200,000, in place of its own $450,000.

The president will have a chance to veto the whole thing.

If he does, the navy will be left without a cent to run on. There will have to be an extra session of congress.

* * *

It was a slap in the face for the president to have so small a majority in the house of representatives on the $450,000 proposition. He'd have lost if he hadn't had some Democratic help. Speaker Longworth and John Q. Tilson, the Republican floor leaders, were against him.

But it was worse in the senate.

Twenty-four Republicans voted for the $1,200,000, against the presidential wishes. Only 18 were on his side.

Still more to the point, the 18 included Senators Frazier, LaFollette and Nye, who ordinarily are anti-presidential insurgents, but simply happened to be on his side in this instance.

* * *

That means 27 Republican senators to whom President Coolidge can't dictate.

In reality there are more than that. There's Senator Norris, who wasn't present and didn't vote on the cruisers, but who's an irreconcilable insurgent. There's also Senator Borah, who's uncertain. There were, likewise, a couple of Republicans who were paired, but who would have been pro-cruiser if they'd voted.

Altogether that makes 31 senators out of a total of 53 nominal Republicans who we know won't back President Coolidge, except when they feel like it.

He'll be even weaker in the next senate, because there will be more Democrats and more insurgent Republicans.

So prospects are of a hectic two years ahead for the white house.

Coolidge Plans Senate Message

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge plans to send a special message to congress today dealing with international relations.

No announcement was made at the White House as to what it would contain, nor the subject matter dealt with. It is reported, however, that the message will deal with the Chinese situation.

McAdoo-Smith Battle For Nomination Certain Declares Tom Taggart

By LARRY SMITS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1927, by International News Service.)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 10.—Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will get the next Democratic convention; prohibition should not be made a national campaign issue; William Gibbs McAdoo of California and Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York will mix in another hot personal battle for the presidential nomination, but Evans Woollen of Indiana is the "dark horse" to be watched.

These are the opinions of Thomas Taggart, former United States Senator from Indiana and present Democratic leader of that state, as expressed to International News Service in an interview today at the Flamingo Hotel here, where the Indiana leader is enjoying a winter rest.

"I sincerely hope that prohibition will not be made a national political issue in the 1928 presidential campaign," Taggart said. "There are just as many Republicans as there are Democrats that want campaigns to saddle the liquor problem on to the backs of the Democrats. But I did not want to have my party win on the issue of liquor. It should not be an issue.

"Governor Smith of New York and W. G. McAdoo will be the dominating figures of the 1928 convention, at its start, as they were in the Madison Square Garden struggle in 1924. Their fight will run a similar course again, but more briefly. I believe that Evans Woollen of Indianapolis is the logical selection. He is relatively known nationally, although he is strong in Indiana.

"Woollen is a former attorney, now a banker and business man, and president of the American Central Life Insurance Company. He was Federal Fuel Administrator for Indiana in 1917 and 1918. A member of the Indiana State Counsel of Defense and chairman of the Indiana Commission of the War Finance Corporation."

Other figures seen by Taggart as bulking important in the 1928 convention are Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith of Iowa, former Secretary of Agriculture, and Governor A. C. Ritchie of Maryland.

Taggart indicated that he did not believe Governor Smith would win the nomination. He had this to say:

"If the Democrats do nominate Smith I believe all Democrats in every section of the country—and I do not exclude the south—would vote for him. I believe he would make a good president, but Woollen would have strength which Smith could not command. He would make the best contender the Democrats have put up in years."

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will be the next convention city, in his opinion, Taggart said.

"The farmers in the west and the cotton growers in the south present the first real problems for political solution," he declared. "Next in importance is the tariff."

Mrs. Taggart and their daughter Lucy are here with Taggart. They will remain until the end of March.

HOW? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

NO. 22

To compute the amount of depreciation which may be claimed, a taxpayer should determine the probable life of the property, then divide by the number of years it will be usable in the business in which employed. The result thus obtained will represent the amount which may be claimed as a deduction. For example, a frame building, the probable lifetime of which is 25 years, cost $5,000. Divide $5,000 by 25 and claim $200 each year as a deduction.

The value to be cared for by depreciation is the cost of the property, if acquired by purchase after February 28, 1913. If acquired by purchase prior to that date the value basis is the cost of the property or its fair market value as of March 1, 1913, whichever is greater.

Depreciation of a home or property used for pleasure or convenience, such as an automobile, cannot be claimed.

Depreciation due to changes in the social or business conditions of a neighborhood, or changes of street grade, or fluctuations of market values, cannot be claimed.

Depreciation of land, whether improved or unimproved, cannot be claimed.

When in the course of years the owner of property has claimed its cost as depreciation, no further claim will be allowed.

Depreciation does not apply to inventories or stock in trade.

The potential earning capacity of an indivadual, his inventive genius or his literary ability may not be made the basis of an allowance for depreciation.

Coke Production Displays Increase

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Feb. 10.—Steadily increasing production featured the coke industry in this district during the past week, the International News Service survey revealed today. The week was marked with such slow increase, however, that several observers felt it did little better than hold its own. The increase recorded was 1,600 tons, divided about equally between furnace and merchant interests.

The weekly total was 136,460 tons. Prices remained unchanged. Spot furnace being quoted at $3.25 and spot foundry at $4.25 to $4.75.

Thus far consumers of coke appear to be little impressed by reports of an impending coal strike on April 1. There has been no indication they plan to follow the lead of coal buyers in stocking against that contingency.

Band And Orchestra Will Be Continued At Croton School

Croton school band, which has been under the direction of W. A. Hoffmaster for several years, has lost several of its best players by promotion and removal to other districts this semester, but Miss Eva Coulter, who will now have charge of the band and orchestra, expects to have the new material trained into shape to hold and even surpass the reputation the boys have made for themselves.

Eight of the boys have been lost to the band, either by promotion or removal to other districts. The best cornet player, Lewis Tamber, has gone to Farrell, together with his two brothers, Joseph, who played the bass horn, and Thomas, who also played the cornet. Two solo cornetists, Charles Lees and Charles Polen, were promoted to the Benjamin Franklin High school, where they received places in the band.

Marshall Kranner, trombone, and John Thompson, piccolo, also were promoted to Junior High, while Keagy Rowland, piccolo, moved to Meadville.

But to make up these losses new boys are being trained from the lower grades. The star performer among the new boys is nine-year-old Bobbie Kennedy of 5B, who plays violin in the orchestra and trombone in the band. Bobbie never attempted to play an instrument until a few months ago, when he started to play the violin, and just before Christmas commenced to play the trombone in the band. Bobbie, without any other musical training at home, gives the greatest promise.

Arrangements have been made whereby one practice a day is made a part of the regular schedule, two days a week for the orchestra and three a week for the band. When the alterations are made in the basement of the school one of the four new rooms are to be for the band and orchestra.

Miss Coulter will have charge of both the band and orchestra, starting with the present semester. Miss Coulter came here last year from Katonah, near New York City, where she was superintendent of musical training in the schools. Miss Coulter is a graduate of Oberlin College, where she specialized in orchestra training.

The Croton school band, which has had a great reputation for several years under the leadership of Mr. Hoffmaster, principal of the school, takes part in all the parades of the city and both the band and orchestra have had several engagements, appearing on the stage several times.

The personnel of the band is as follows:

Bass drums: Leon Huff and Joe Isabelle; snare drums, Joseph Dominic, Kenneth Wallace, Dan Apacelli; cymbals, Frank Cimini; bass horns, Frank Valletti, Adolph Para; trombones, Ralph McCormick, Paul Shetrom, Mike Rosa, Bobbie Kennedy; base baritone, Tony Cook, Alfred Lattavo, Steven Kleckner; altos, Adam Banari, Nick Pia; saxophones, Eugene Keneham, Frank Waddlinger; cornets, Sullivan Yargo, Tony Farise, Frank Crisci, Henry Wellhausen, Frank Taylor.

The personnel of the orchestra is:

Pianist, Jane Knoblock; violins, Dorothy Delp, Bobbie Kennedy, Frank Valetta, Charles Campbell, Fred Black; saxophones, Eugene Keneham, Frank Waddlinger; cornets, Sullivan Yargo, Tony Farise; trombones, Ralph McCormick, Paul Shetrom, Mike Rosa, Frank Crisci, Henry Wellhausen; alto horn, Adam Bagnari; drums, Kenneth Wallace; bass baritone, Alfred Lattavo; piccolo, Clare Book.

In the band and orchestra several of the instruments are owned by the individuals, but also a great number of them are property of the school.

Prescription Character

It lies quite naturally in at least three elements.

1. The quality of the ingredients that are used. We use none but the best, procured from the best, most reputable drug houses of the world.
2. The way the ingredients are put together including the accurate weight and measurement. We employ none but the best trained, long experienced, skillful and conscientious pharmacists fully registered. They know the importance of accuracy and how to compound prescriptions to get the best result.
3. The absence of any contaminating substances. Every tool we work with, every container we use is scrupulously clean. The total result, therefore,

One Woman Player Appears In Orchestra

No doubt the first thing that will attract the attention of the audience when the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra appears here tonight, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral will be the presence of a woman in the orchestra. Miss Jenny Cullen, violinist enjoys the distinction of being one of the few women now playing with any ranking Symphony Orchestra in America.

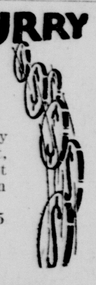

With utter desregard for the tradition and conventions which have ruled out women from most symphony orchestras in the United States, the management of the Minneapolis Orchestra rested their decision to offer Miss Cullen a contract solely upon her ability to carry her share of the load. For many years concertmaster of the famous State Symphony Orchestra of Sydney, Australia, and previous to that a playing member of the renowed Scottish Orchestra of Glasglow, Scotland, Miss Cullen has had wide experience, and is rated by discerning critics as a truly great violinist.

A native of Glasglow, Scotland, Miss Cullen, has been a pupil of Henri Verbrugghen, conductor of the Minneapolis Orchestra since she was a child of thirteen. On the concert stage in Scotland, England and on the continent, she achieved phenomenal success. However, the arduous duties of constant tours soon dulled her interest. Miss Cullen is happy to be associated with a great orchestra, playing the masterpieces of all time, enjoying to the full the development of her art. In addition to her orchestral duties Miss Cullen plays second violin in the noted string quartet organized by Mr. Verbrugghen twenty years ago.

A prime favorite with the members of the orchestra, Miss Cullen plays her part like any other member, asking no favors, dodging no duties. Her frequent appearances in Minneapolis in solo numbers with the Orchestra have firmly established her in the affections of the musical public.

Ohio Steel Firms Likely To Merge

Six Of Seven Have Agreed Upon Terms Of Combine

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 10. — Prospects for consummation of a proposed merger of seven Ohio sheet steel companies were said to be bright today following all-day conferences held here yesterday when negotiators are reported to have taken up valuation of participating companies.

The new concern is to be headed by the Mansfield Sheet and Tin Plate Company, with H. W. Davey, its president, as president of the new organization. It is reported six of the seven firms have given tentative consent to the merger but that the seventh has not made a definite answer, seeking a cash offer rather than a stock deal for its property.

Financial plans are said to have been changed somewhat. Working capitals is to be furnished partly by participating companies and partly by bank credit. Capitalization will consist of about $3,750,000 in bonds now outstanding, preferred and common stock, none of which will be offered to the public for the time being. It had been planned to issue new bonds and to retire those outstanding against three companies.

Would Revoke Licenses Of All Drunk Drivers

Intoxicated automobile drivers will have no place on the highways of Pennsylvania if a bill introduced in the House of Representatives by Representative Metzger of Dauphin county becomes a law.

The bill provides for the permanent revocation of drivers' licenses in case of second conviction for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquors or habit forming drugs. The only objection to the bill is that it should read "in case of first conviction" say thinking motorists.

Probably 500 More State Laws

Expect 400 To 500 Measures To Be Passed By State Legislature

SEVEN ATTORNEYS ON COMMISSION

State Fish Commission Makes Plans For Spring Stocking

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 10. — How many laws has Pennsylvania? That is a question that is unanswerable, even by John H. Fertig, legislative reference bureau expert. Before the present session of state legislature closes April 14 approximately 2,000 more laws will be thrown into the hopper. Of that number probably 600 will be appropriations measures of local interest to various communities. Many others will be for the establishment of stretches of roadway which will benefit some certain communities of the state. It is predicted that between 400 and 500 of the bills introduced in both house of the legislature will become laws.

During the period from 1850 to 1874 new laws were made at the rate of 1,000 to 2,000 each legislative session. Since 1874 the number has varried from 400 to 700. The present legislature is the 127th since the adoption of the constitution of 1776. If each legislative session added 1,000 new laws to the statute books, the total state laws now would be 12,700. But some of these laws repealed others; and the various "codes" repealed laws in bunches.

It would take extensive research over years of legislating in Pennsylvania to determine the exact number of laws, experts have pointed out. Considering the thousands of municipal ordinances and there is another item which would complicate the report. Experts declare tht new ordinnce is adopted every day in the year by some Pennsylvania municipality.

The Public Service Commission is made up of seven attorneys, five of whom were practicing attorneys. The other two have been admitted to the Pennsylvania bar but they were not practicing attorneys at the time of their appointments to the commission. They are John S. Benn, a former Philadelphia newspaperman, and John L. Stewart, for many years a professor at Lehigh University at Bethlehem. Governor Fisher's appointment of Samuel Walker, of Butler, and Emerson Collins, of Williamsport, made the legal profession unanimous on the commission.

The State Fish Commission has made entensive plans for spring planting of fish in the streams of Pennsylvania. Under a new policy adopted by the commission no trout under four inches in length will be planted and most of the trout put out this spring will be catchable.

May Allow Park Operation Sunday

Question To Come Up Before Councilmen At York In Near Future

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Feb. 10.—York's city council will be called upon to consider an amendment to an ordinance passed last summer forbidding the Sunday operation of moving picture shows and amusement parks within the city limits.

Finance Commissioner C. R. Anstine, who sponsored the blue Sabbath bill last summer, stated that information has been given him to the effect that a delegation interested in amusement parks and other recreation centers will appear before the council in the near future to ask that the Sunday ordinance be altered so as to permit "outdoor" amusements on the Sabbath day.

York's largest amusement park was operating Sundays long before agitation was started for a closed Sunday. The movement which resulted in the passage of the Sunday ordinance was created immediately following the opening of a local motion picture show on Sunday last summer.

Scores of clergymen and lay members of church councils prevailed upon the councilmen to pass the bill closing the motion picture shows, and amusement parks were included in the list of "objectionable Sunday occupations" cited by the bill. Since the passage of the ordinance the motion picture show which precipitated the furore closed its doors voluntarily, leaving the amusement park the only enterprise affected by the provisions of the bill.

Finance Commissioner Anstine has been informed that the amendment to the ordinance will be asked on the ground that the bill was aimed chiefly at the motion picture shows and not at the park, which is now alone affected.

Women Need a Mild Laxative —Not a "Physic"

Countless girls and women now know how foolish and needless it is to "purge" and "physic" themselves to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, sallow skin, colds, or sour, gassy stomach.

They have found that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those heretofore chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate girl or woman. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin", Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Increase Your Weight 5 Pounds In 30 Days Or Money Back

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamines that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease and puts good solid flesh on skinny men and women.

But it's repulsive in taste and smell and nearly every stomach rebels against it.

So now men and women who keep up with the times are taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—rich in flesh producing, health building, strength creating vitamines and as easy to take as candy.

Try them for 30 days if you want to fill out those scrawny hollows in chest, cheeks and neck and gain strength and vigor. And bear this in mind if they don't help you in that time any druggist anywhere will return your money—But demand McCoy's 60 tablets 60 cents.

The Value of Human Life at all ages

© 1927, M L I Co.

"Broke"— but Worth $79,100

Dad earns $50 a week. He has just paid the rent, the grocery bill and the milk bill. He says he is "broke, but happy".... In reality, he and his family are worth a small fortune.... This American family represents $79,100 of the nation's wealth.

ALMOST any man will agree that his life is more valuable to himself than the things he owns. Now he can have the comfort of knowing how valuable his life is to others—from a dollars-and-cents standpoint.

Today it is known that the lives of our men, women and children are the nation's greatest asset. The economic value of these lives completely overshadows the value of all of our material wealth.

Recent computations made by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show the real economic value of the lives of our people from babyhood to old age. These figures are based on the average family—with an average income—and take into consideration the average length of life of each member of the family, together with the cost of bringing children into the world, feeding them, clothing them, educating them and bringing them up to a self-supporting basis.

Long lives and short lives—small incomes and big incomes—are reckoned in these calculations. At 40, a man earning $100 a week is rated as having an economic value of $45,670. At 30, the $50-a-week man represents a value of $31,000. He had a value of $9,333 the day he was born. *

—And then come the figures showing the total economic value of all the men, women and children of the United States—the astounding total of 1,500 billion dollars ($1,500,000,000,000).

* If you wish to find out how much each member of your family is worth, economically, send for a booklet recently prepared by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—it tells how a person of any age may measure the economic value of his or her life. It will be mailed free.

Fiscal Report to Policyholders for Year Ending December 31, 1926

Dividends to Policyholders payable 1927	$52,246,369.35
All other liabilities	$70,648,717.81
Unassigned Funds	$122,236,122.14
	$2,108,004,385.30
Increase in Assets during 1926	$253,346,902.88
Income in 1926	$595,596,505.88
Gain in Income, 1926	$64,368,062.09
Paid-for Life Insurance Issued, Increased and Revived in 1926	$3,011,775,150.00
Gain in Insurance in Force in 1926	$1,401,734,835.00
Total Bonuses and Dividends to Policyholders from 1892 to and including 1927	$304,594,554.96

Life Insurance Outstanding

Ordinary Insurance	$6,566,596,872.00
Industrial (premiums payable weekly)	$5,487,800,648.00
Group Insurance	$1,444,584,107.00
Total Insurance Outstanding	$13,498,981,627.00
Number of Policies in Force December 31, 1926.	37,239,579

Perhaps the easiest way to realize this stupendous figure is to compare it with the total value of the entire material wealth of our country.

The latest available government reports show that everything we own—land, buildings, railroads, mines, raw materials, manufactured products, crops, live stock—everything included—was 321 billions.... Our lives are worth nearly five times as much as our property.

America can well be proud of the additional insurance placed on the valuable lives of her people in 1926. More than 16 billion dollars ($16,000,000,000) was written and revived during the year by about 300 life insurance companies—making the total amount of life insurance in force approximately 80 billion dollars ($80,000,000,000). About one sixth of the grand total is carried by the Metropolitan.

But while the people of this country carry 80 billion dollars of life insurance—or only one-twentieth of the economic value of their lives—they carry more than 160 billions of insurance on property—more than one-half of its value.

You would not insure a $5,000 house for $250—one twentieth of its value. You insure it adequately. But have you insured yourself adequately? Send for the booklet which tells you what you are worth. Study it. Then decide whether or not you carry enough insurance to protect your family.

America is rapidly gaining a better knowledge of the value of its greatest wealth—human lives.

The America of the future will better safeguard its wealth and happiness.

HALEY FISKE, President FREDERICK H. ECKER, Vice-President

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company is a mutual organization. It has no stock and no stockholders. Its wealth is owned solely by its 24,500,000 Policyholders—in the United States and Canada.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

Spare ribs the farmer's great dish at "killing time" has come to be considered quite a luxury in the city. It is cooked with sauer-kraut with cabbage or beans. Below we have it baked with the beans. No potatoes are served with this meal as beans, bread and kuchen are enough starch for one meal.

Baked Beans with Spare Ribs
Cole Slaw Jelly
Bread and Buter
Apple Kuchen Milk, Coffee

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Baked Beans With Spare Ribs—Cover ribs with water, salt to taste and boil about one hour. Take out and set aside till needed. After soaking beans over night, drain, cover with boiling water, put in pinch of soda let come to boil, drain and rinse. Now put beans in water ribs were cooked in and bring to boil. Put in large baking dish and put in oven. About one-half hour before dinner place spare ribs on top of beans to brown. If you like tomato flavor with beans serve with catsup. Add about four tablespoons cream and sugar to taste. Mix. Put dash of pepper over top.

Apple Kuchen—Start the sponge at noon. Mix one-half cup sugar, one-half cup flour and enough cold water to make paste. Into this drain potato water. When cool, add one-half yeast cake dissolved in one-half cup warm water. Set in warm place to rise. By time supper dishes are done it is light and fluffy and ready to mix. Add one tablespoon shortening, handful salt and flour to make stiff dough. Knead as for bread. Cover and set in warm place till morning.

It will then be light again. Roll out about one-half inches thick. Let rise again (about two hours,) brush top with cream and slice apples over top, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon.

Repotting Plants—Plants that are growing healthily in pots whether outdoors during the warm weather or in the house in the winter frequently become what the florist calls "potbound." Plainly expressed this simply means that the roots have developed to such an extent that hey are cramped by the confines of their container. Should such a condition be allowed to continue the plant is sure to suffer for its continued success and further development depend upon normal conditions for every part of its physical organism.

It is easy to determine the existence of this trouble and just as simple to remedy it. By turning pot and plant upside down and lightly rapping the rim of the pot against the edge of a table or post the whole contents can be jarred out without breaking it to any extent. If the outside of the soil ball is sovered with a network of fine roots repotting in a larger container is advisable. In this event merely reset the plant in the center of the new pot at the depth at which it was formerly growing, filling it beneath and around the old ball of roots with fresh soil.

Activities In Public School At Bessemer

Many Club Meetings And Athletic Contests Are Of Interest

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Feb. 10.—February, the shortest month of the year, brings with it a whole host of notable days. The various activities are planning programs to celebrate Lincoln's birthday and several of the rooms are discussing valentine boxes, plays, etc.

The History Club had a very interesting program at their last meeting. Readings and essays were given and a debate had been prepared. The question for debate was: Resolved: that history is a better education than English. After the program officers were elected for the coming semester. Jane Gilmore was elected president; Mary Smith, vice president; Stafania Matozel, secretary and treasurer.

The 15 members of the Boy Scout Club were all present at their last meeting. At the present time they are busy studying outdoor life and nature. One of the interesting discussions of the last meeting was the study of how to make fire without matches.

The Science Club, as usual, had a series of scientific talks given by assigned members. John Nosek gave a discussion concerning "Turning Ships into Autos". Conrad Plevink talked about "The Battle of Wing Honors". "Things Scientific" was the title of a speech given by Jacob Levinson. Mr. Winters gave an interesting talk on various racing cars and racing records. Experiments were performed on electrolysis and determining the vacuum of globes.

The "Jim" Club met at one o'clock Tuesday in the high school auditorium. The first 15 minutes of the hour were spent at various military drills. The last part of the hour was spent at playing basketball. The class was divided into two sections, each section having a team which contested against the other.

Last Thursday's chapel program was under the supervision of Miss Hamilton. Since it was impossible for the great majority of the students to go to New Wilmington for the literary contest, the contestants agreed to present their numbers in chapel. Another feature of the program was a talk given by the Rev. Mr. Hammil of Mt. Jackson.

The High school basketball squads journeyed to Lowellville Saturday evening to play the Lowellville high teams. The girls' game was an excellent one. The team played a better game than at any other time this year. As a result they won by a score of 23-16. The boys, too, played a hard game, but lost by a score of 24-12.

The Bessemer High squads meet Fairfield High teams Friday evening at Bessemer.

The girls have played six interclass basketball games during noon hours this semester. The first game was played between seventh and eighth grades, and the eighth grade was victorious. The freshmen claimed the victory over the sophomores in the second game. The juniors and seniors played the third game and the juniors were victorious. The fourth game was played between the freshmen and the seventh grade. The seventh grades, being outclassed, had little chance for victory. The fifth game was an interesting one, since the freshmen and juniors were playing for the championship of the first week. The teams were both good, but the juniors were favored with the victory. The last of the six games was between the juniors and eighth graders and, much to the surprise of all, ended as a tie.

Noted Pianist At Westminster

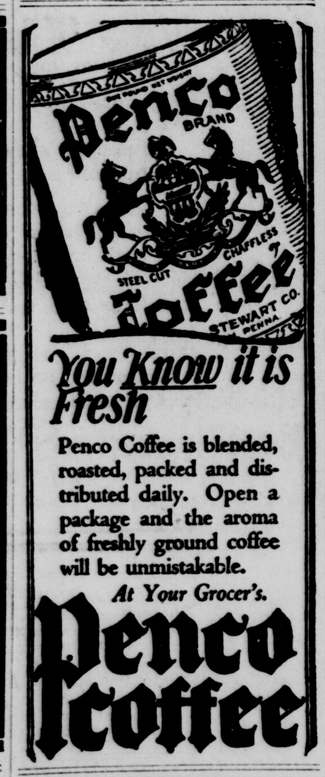

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 10.—Marion Rous, brilliant pianist of New York City, will present the next number on the Artists' Course at Westminster College, her appearance being scheduled for next Tuesday evening. Her recital will be given in the Community House.

"What Next in Music?", is the title of the program. It consists of a wide variety of modern compositions — ragtime, humorous conceptions, descriptive pieces—together with an informal running commentary upon modernistic ideas in music.

Edwin Whitney, noted humorist, appeared in the Community House Tuesday evening as a number on the Lecture Course. He presented "The Fortune Hunter," by Winchell Smith, a comedy in four acts. For almost two hours, Mr. Whitney held his audience in close attention and the applause at the conclusion of his presentation, was evidence of the success of the evening. His character interpretation marked him as an artist.

The Best of 250 Shampoos

By Edna Wallace Hopper

Here is an example of how I get the best beauty aids created.

A famous laboratory sent me some shampoo. They said, "we have spent 60 years in the study of shampoos. We made up and tested over 250 formulas before we perfected this. Here is the final result. It not only leaves hair soft and clean, but it gives a sunny glint."

Well, I found they were right. My hair was like a halo after using that shampoo. I knew at once that millions of women would welcome a wash like that.

So I asked those famous chemists to make it for all of us. I called it Edna Wallace Hopper's Fruity Shampoo. All toilet counters now supply it at 60c per bottle under my guarantee. Or the coupon will bring you a trial bottle, also my Beauty Book. Try it for your own sake. You will be amazed and delighted.

In the combined orchestra from all the schools there will be about 120 pieces. The rhythmic bands alone will number 100. The first music festival was given last year, the first of its kind in the history of Ellwood City, and the mammoth undertaking was successfully carried off, due largely to the efforts of Prof. O. E. Bartel, and the proceeds devoted to the purchasing of instruments for the school bands. The proceeds of this March festival will be devoted to the same cause. The band members are justly proud of their nice shiny instruments and spend most of their time between acts shining them up.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

NO FOUR

New Castle, Pa., Feb. 9, 1027.
Editor, New Castle "News"
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Troop "A" 104th Cavalry will very shortly pass out of existence in New Castle and I want to take this opportunity to thank the New Castle "News" for the whole-hearted cooperation given myself and the Troop since I was placed in command about November 1st. I wish to also thank the various Civic organizations in New Castle for their efforts in our behalf to keep the Troop in New Castle.

It is hoped that when the new organization comes here that the New Castle "News" and the Civic organizations of New Castle will give that Organization the same support that it has given the present Troop during the last three months. Without this support the new organization cannot and will not be able to exist and it will also pass out of existence.

The results obtained in this Troop during the past three months are due to no one man's efforts and if I had not had the entire Troop behind me nothing could have been accomplished. To the sixty-six men in this Troop goes the most credit for the results obtained.

Cordially yours,
PAUL W. KEELY,
Second Lieutenant Cavalry
Comdg Troop "A".

Ganna Walska Is Too Busy To Talk About Divorce Rumor

Paris Reports Say Famous Ganna Walska Seeks Divorce Action

(International News Service)

PARIS, Feb. 10.—Ganna Walska was far too busy today to discuss New York reports that she and her husband, Harold McCormick, are involved in marital strife.

When an attempt was made to see Ganna Walska to inquire about the reports of a possible divorce, the diva sent word through her secretary that she was "too busy to see anyone" and "had nothing to say."

Intimates of Ganna Walska are inclined to doubt that a divorce is pending, although they admit that Harold McCormick and his wife spend but little time togther.

Ganna Walska made an appointment with her lawyer, Charles Loeb, for this afternoon, but Loeb stated it concerned a matter quite apart from divorce.

"Mrs. McCormick has never taken up the question of divorce with me," said Loeb. "I once said to her, 'People are always saying you are going to get a divorce.' She replied, 'I like to have people talk about me.'"

TRAFFIC TYDOL

Through new precision methods, a great refiner creates this perfect gasoline

Improve your car's performance in 5 definite ways. Get the New Traffic Tydol from sealed Tydol pumps. No premium price.

PROOF!

The New TRAFFIC TYDOL means

1. FASTER STARTING
2. QUICKER PICK-UP
3. MORE POWER
4. LESS GEAR-SHIFTING
5. REDUCES KNOCKING

Above facts proved in impartial, stop-watch tests. New Traffic Tydol competed with seven other gasolines. Tests made by 16 professional demonstrators, in following cars, picked at random.

Ford	Star "6"	Franklin	Studebaker
Whippet	Pontiac	Willys-Knight	Chrysler
Chevrolet	Nash	Chandler	Reo
Dodge	Hupmobile "6"	Buick	Locomobile "8"

New Traffic-Tydol earned 66 out of possible 70 first places, in tests made on 5 separate points. Unanimous choice of all 16 demonstrators as best all around gasoline.

Signed, photostatic records of above tests on file in offices of Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation, 11 Broadway, New York City.

MORE than twenty one million cars! One to every five people! More cars than telephones! City traffic in villages! Boulevard traffic on country roads!

Streams of cars! Torrents of cars! Turning, speeding, stopping, dodging! An inch on this side! Two inches on that! An opening here! A blockade there! Clutch—shift—brakes—accelerator, over and over and over again.

That's 1927 traffic.

To drive in that whirlpool of cars, with safety, ease and speed requires all your skill at the wheel, all your motor's flexibility, and all the sturdiness your car possesses.

But even more, modern traffic demands a new type of motor-fuel, a gasoline that delivers instantly the precise kind of power you need to meet every situation, every crisis of the road.

Today, in the New Traffic Tydol, such a gasoline is offered to the motoring public.

A gasoline that meets the 5 demands of modern traffic

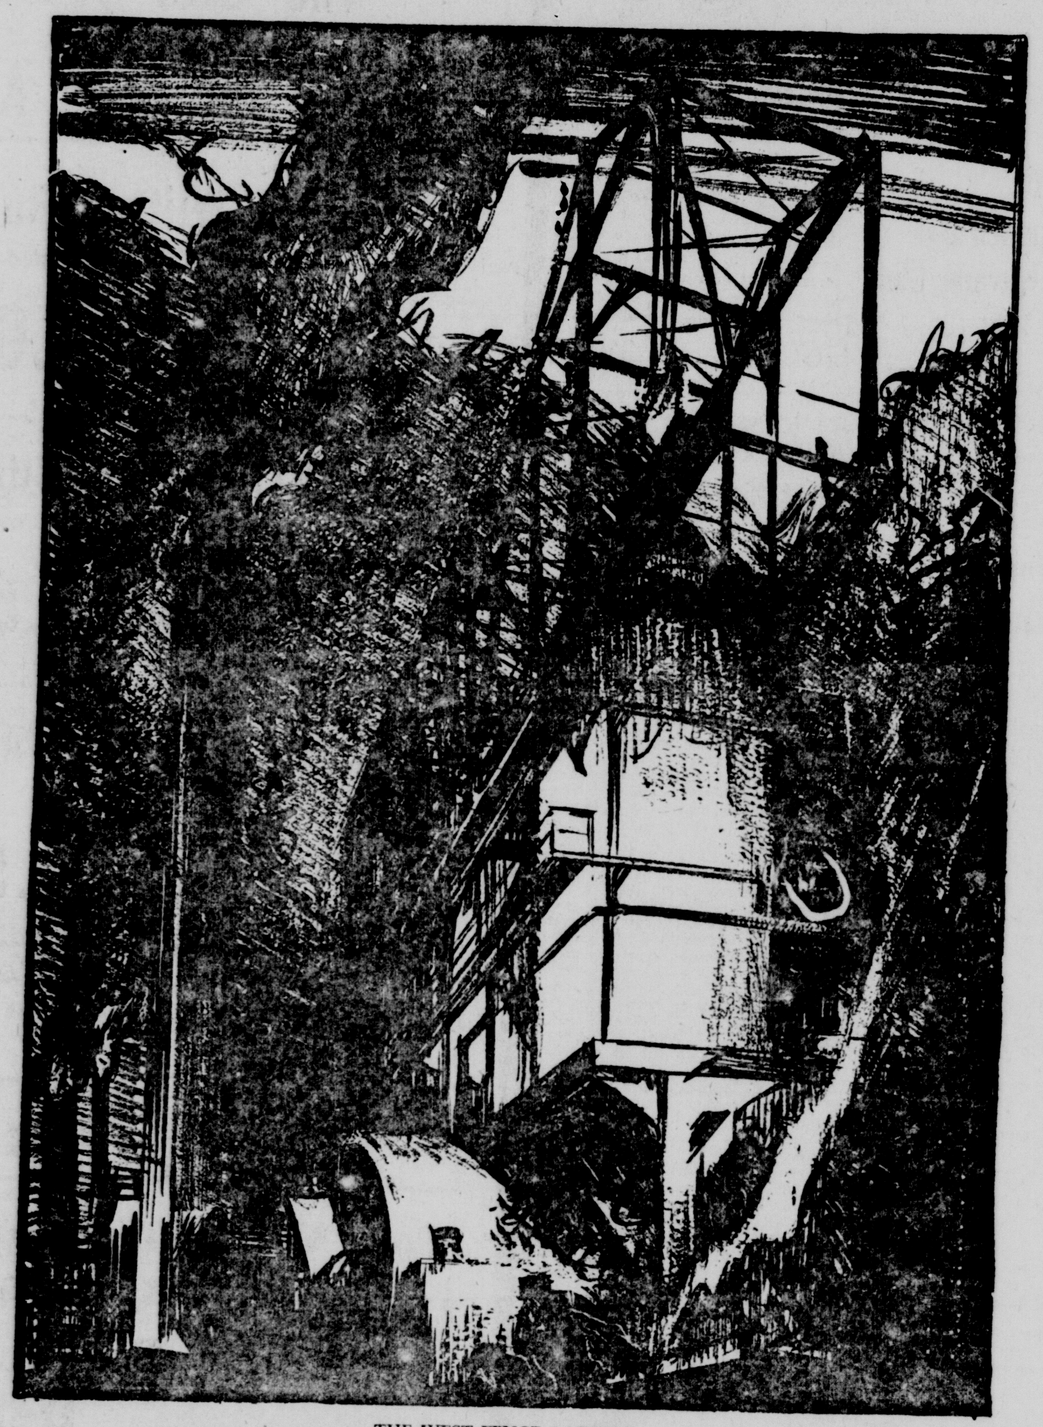

Present-day traffic makes five definite demands of gasoline. First, split-second starting. Second, rushing pick-up. Third, a great reserve of power for emergencies. Fourth, it must reduce gear-shifting, by furnishing power as smooth, in high gear, at five miles an hour as at fifty. Fifth, it must eliminate knocking, and keep your motor quiet and sweet-running.

Many gasolines satisfy one or two of those requirements. But there is only one gasoline, the New Traffic Tydol that fully meets all five requirements.

To make this new traffic gasoline possible, Tide Water technologists made thousands of exacting laboratory tests, hundreds of rigid road tests. Refining equipment and refining methods were revised and developed to a new point in precision and accuracy. Great, additional resources in California crude oils were acquired because California crude imparts unique qualities to a gasoline.

And finally, after more than two years of work, the New Traffic Tydol was perfected.

To prove conclusively to the motoring public the superiority of this new gasoline it was subjected to these competitive tests.

THE WEST FENCE BATTERY

How Tide Water's Bubble Tower Stills make possible the New Traffic Tydol

GAUNT, fantastic silhouettes against the sky, "Battery A" and the "West Fence Battery" tower above the turmoil of the great Tide Water refinery at Bayonne, N.J.

To the layman they are simply a weird tangle of tanks and steel work and pipes and ladders. But to engineers they mark the beginning of another chapter in gasoline history.

Where ordinary gasoline stills are regulated by hand, Tide Water's Bubble-Tower stills are governed by sensitive thermostats, and accurate electric recording instruments.

And now it is possible to refine gasoline without the slightest guess-work, variation or error.

And, car-owners can obtain a gasoline that meets the five demands of 1927 traffic—the New Traffic-Tydol.

The new TRAFFIC TYDOL ECONOMY GASOLINE

"Blind tests" prove this gasoline's superiority

Sixteen professional car demonstrators were selected to make the tests. These men were experts who knew the meaning of a motor's slightest whisper. The cars they drove ranged from fours to eights, from Fords to Locomobiles.

Each demonstrator first tested the gasoline he was accustomed to use. Then he conducted "blind" tests with other gasolines, taken from unlabelled cans. One of these in every case was the New Traffic Tydol. But, at no time during these tests, did the demonstrator know which gasoline he was using.

The tests were made under every conceivable traffic condition,—on hills, in city streets, on highways, in rain, cold, and snow. Each gas was tested for: fast-starting; pick-up; power; gear-shifting; and for anti-knock qualities.

In each test the demonstrator was accompanied by an observer, with a split-second stop watch, who recorded the results.

Here are the results.

Out of a possible 70 first choices, in tests made on 5 separate points, the New Traffic Tydol earned 66. On a question of personal choice, all 16 demonstrators chose Tydol as the best all around gasoline.

You make the FINAL test

Stop today at any black and orange Tydol pump. Fill up with the New Traffic Tydol. Then test this gasoline impartially, for faster starting, quicker pick-up, added power, less gear-shifting, and for anti-knock qualities.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

FAREWELL BETWEEN FISHES

Without warning the Trout became still, so very still that the little Girl was worried.

"Have the fresh air and sunshine made you ill, little fish? Wait but a moment and I will fetch more water."

But the little fish shook his tail, which meant exactly the same thing as though he had shaken his head.

"Never mind, 'twould be no use. All the drops that you can pour upon me will not save my life. I'm not ill, sweet Girl, but I am mournful, for I'm waiting, waiting!"

"Waiting? For what?" At last Peter found his voice.

"For the end of my days!" sighed the Trout, and, oh, dear me, how sad was his voice now! "Do what you must do quickly, cruel Boy, that I may not have to linger to think longer upon the pleasures that once were mine that I shall know no more."

Just at that moment there was a splashing in the waters of the brook, a strange, gaspy whisper so much like the hooked Trout's own.

OUT OF THE RIPPLES LIFTED A SILVERY HEAD

Peter and Pat and the little Girl turned their heads to see, and out of the ripples lifted a silvery head, the head of a Trout no larger than the one lying upon the bank.

"Husband, oh, husband, I've found you at last, dear, but in company so strange and terrible I fear for your safety. The Two-Legs and Four-Foot—have they destroyed the life within your body? Speak to me, husband of mine, if you can, or by your silence I shall know the worst has happened."

The poor Trout tried to rise to his tail, but was too weak. A quiver shivered his scales.

"I am alive and unhurt, faithful wife of mine!" whispered the Trout on the bank to the Trout in the pool, "but evil fortune has befallen me. The bright waters of the old Trout stream—never more shall I snap at flies skimming the surface; the bends in the stream—never again will you swim at full speed as we turn them; the pretty pebbles at the bottom of the brook where we used to chase the tadpoles, the green mosses and green rushes by the side of the pool—I shall no more rest in their shadows. Farewell! You will miss me, dear wife, for a while, but soon, soothed by the quiet content of the old Trout stream, you will forget me. But leave me, wife, while there is yet time. Swim quickly to our once happy home, and to the children bear a fond father's farewell and blessing!"

DINNER STORIES

An Irishman on a visit to Paris had a very limited knowledge of the language. One of the first things he visited was an exhibition of painting. He admired one of the water colors and asked a man standing near by who was responsible.

"Je ne sais pas" ("I don't know") replied the man.

The next day the same Irishman stood beside a church and watched a wedding procession. The bride was very pretty but the man attracted a great deal of attention for he had at least 20 medals on his uniform.

"Who is he?" asked the Irishman of a young woman.

"Je ne sais pas."

"Really!" said the Irishman.

Later in the afternoon he saw a funeral, and as it was a very elaborate affair, he wondered who was being buried.

"Je ne sais pas" said a bystander in response to his inquiry.

"What, already?" said the Irishman. "He was only married this morning.."

The chemistry professor was explaining the use of and remedy for poisonous gases.

"Long ones."

The correspondent of a large business firm had been invited to dinner by a friend. At the table the host asked him to say grace. It was a new experience but he was not to be found wanting.

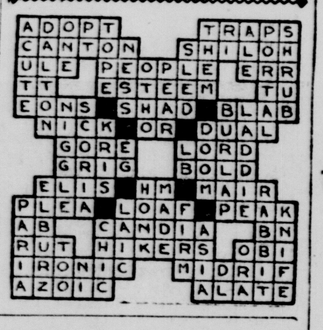

"Dear Lord" he began, "we thank Thee for all favors of recent date. Permit us to express our heartfelt thanks and gratitude. We trust that we may continue to merit your confidence and that we shall receive many more blessings from you in the future. Amen."

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

Gives Kelly For Terrific Hitter

Experts Figure Giants Are Strengthened By Addition Of Roush To Outfield

KELLY IS STILL GOOD BALL PLAYER

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—All standing-sitting-standing records for player turnover in the major leagues were broken beyond recognition today with the announcement that the New York Giants had taken title to Ed Roush in consideration for the passing of George Kelly to the Cincinnati Reds. That one just closed the book, unless I am grossly in error in the notion that the Yankees are not seriously considering a transfer of Babe Ruth to the Phillies and that the Senators aren't likely to send Walter Johnson to Fort Wayne for further seasoning.

Giants Strenghtened

They are, with the sole exception of George Sisler in St. Louis, the only ranking figures of the profession who have remained, as is, during the exigencies of this most sensational of all off seasons.

And now Kelly for Roush. I suppose that, even at this immature moment, forecasts are being aired to the effect that the series of deals has "made" the Giants and Athletics and that John McGraw and Connie Mack have been detected again in a lot of deep thinking. Time alone will tell that story. For years, McGraw has tried inter mittently to land either Hornsby or Roush. Now he has both at one and the same time and that should be eminently satisfactory, at least until the start of the season.

Roush In Center

Roush, of course, will play centerfield, giving McGraw his first real star in that position since Donlin's Day. Edward, however, will be thirty-four in May and that isn't so good considering the fact that McGraw had him ten years ago and just wasn't interested. Roush hit .323 in 144 games last year while Kelly's best was .302 in 136 games. At that, George drove in one more run than Roush, 80 to 79, while Billy Terry, who will replace Kelly, accounted for 43 and hit .289, mostly as a pinch hitter. Kelly is thirty-one years old.

In view of Wally Pipp's excellent season in 1926 and Kelly's adaptability, the latter probably will be played in the Cincinnati outfield until such time as it discovered that, as an outfielder, he is able to play lots of baseball around base.

Gerson Imperials Play Youngstown

The Gerson Imperials will clash with the strong Orange Crush Five of Youngstown, O., tonight at 9:15 o'clock on the Y. M. C. A. court.

Included in the lineup of the Youngstown team will be found two former Rayen High stars. A large crowd is expected to witness the game tonight. The Imperials have hit a winning stride and they hope to add the Ohioans to their string.

Mars High Teams To Play Here Friday

"So Austria is gonna reenter the Davis Cup matches. Thought those birds would get Hungary for tennis again."

Mars High will send two teams here Friday night to battle the New Castle High athletes. The girls will play the New Castle maidens in a preliminary game at 7:15 o'clock, with the boys sectional game following immediately.

The New Castle High boys will be out there Friday night to win their seventh league encounter. The locals have taken six in a row and they are anxious to continue the streak that has carried them to the top of the heap in Section IV.

Coach Bridenbaugh has expressed himself as being entirely satisfied with the lineup that started the Carnegie Tech game, and it is likely that the team roster will have the same complexion tomorrow night.

New Castle High can just about cinch things if they win from Mars here Friday night. The Red and Black team took a 29 to 18 victory at Mars not many weeks ago and they feel confident that they can again turn the trick.

University Of Oklahoma Team Displays Western Styles For Campus Folks

(International News Service)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Feb. 10—Taking advantage of a widespread belief in the East the Oklahomans spend their spare time shooting Indians on the main streets of their home towns, ten members of the University of Oklahoma basketball squad who appear on the West Virginia University floor tonight, invaded Morgantown arrayed in 10 gallon sombreros, leather boots, and jingling spurs.

The basketball men were mistaken for members of a wild west show when they appeared on the mountaineer campus. The Oklahomans leave after tonight's game for Annapolis to play the Navy.

Yankee Owners Are Silent On Report Ruth As Holdout

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the New York Yankees, was both uncommunicative and unimpressed today by Babe Ruth's reported threat to quiet baseball unless the terms of his contract were more to his liking. He would neither deny nor affirm Ruth's statement that the contract tendered him called for $52,000 a year, the same figure Ruth is understood to have received for some years previously.

"I have nothing to say about that or about anything for that matter," Ruppert said. "The signing of contracts is a private matter between our players and our club."

Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, was inclined to depreciate the entire situation.

"These matters always iron themselves out," he said. "Everything will be settled satisfactorily in the long run."

Shamrocks Win From "Muskets"

Shamrocks Are Forced Into Extra Period To Capture Game

Shamrocks defeated the Musketeers in an extra period tilt at Rose Avenue gym, Wednesday evening, 31 to 30. The lead see-sawed throughout the entire contest which was one replete with thrills.

Rush, Tyrell and J. Burns netted the most points for the Shamrocks, each netting the team many points through field goals and J. Burns caged the winning basket in the extra period.

Kroen and Woods scored two baskets each for the Musketeers and although they were defeated they played a fast brand and of sufficient quality to force the setto into an extra period.

Man Who "Almost Beat Paddock" to Race Him Again

By NORMAN E. BROWN

LESS than a year ago Charley Paddock, "the world's fastest human," set the record of 9 5-10 seconds which, officially recognized, gave him the title. The race was run at the Southern Pacific championships May 15, 1926, and for 98 yards of that century run a freshman of the University of Southern California, Charley Borah, led Paddock. It was the much discussed flying leap of the brilliant Paddock which shot him to the tape ahead of Borah and to the new record.

Now these two are going to match speed again—at the A. A. U. relays Feb. 28.

What a race this ought to be!

Sport Writer Praises Westminster Quintet

C. W. Johnson, sporting editor of the Meadville Tribune-Republican had the following nice things to say about the Westminster quintet in his account of the Allegheny-Westminster game of Tuesday night. Allegheny won the game 24 to 13, but they had a battle to do it.

Allegheny found the United Presbyterians an unusually stiff opponent and for the first two periods the Blue and Gold team found the going rather to their discomfort. The first half ended 14 to 10.

Defensive play was the forte of both teams. Westminster presented a style of play that was entirely new to the Meadville court and to most fans. Instead of the usual man-for-man style of defense the Westminsterites presented a five-man zone system tactics that brought the three rangiest players in the lineup across the center of the floor. Time after time this combination consisting of the center and two forwards broke up the passing of the Allegheny boys, and it was only through a concentrated effort that the Blue and Gold team broke through for markers.

Westminster presented a strong team here. The defensive play was perhaps the best shown by any college team to appear on the Allegheny court this year, including Grove City and Geneva. The single weakness of the New Wilmington team being their inability to cage the ball with any degree of effectiveness. Had the Westminster team counted even a quarter of their shots at the baskets, the Allegheny team would have been outpointed by a wide margin.

Electric Shop Boys Win By Forfeit Route

The Electric Shop boys of the Ben Franklin School, champions of the Class League won by a forfeit over the Acme club on Wednesday night. The Acme team failed to show up for their scheduled game.

The Electric team will be strong contenders for the midget championship of Lawrence county according to the dope. For games with the Electric boys call 784-W and ask for "Bud". The following teams are asked to get in touch with the Electrics: Mahoning A. A. Midgets, East Side Orioles, and Falcon Midgets, also any others desiring a fast attraction.

The annual Intercollegiate A. A. A. indoor track and field championships to be held in New York city on March 5 will witness three of last year's individual champions fighting to retain their honors. These are William A. Dowdling, Georgestown, running broad jump champion; Stephen R. Bradley, Princeton captain, who won the pole vault title, and John H. Moody, Dartmouth jumper, who shared the high-jump title with Emerson Norton of Georgetown; who is now out of college competition.

In recent years nearly all of the tennis stars have come from the Atlantic or Pacific coasts, with few from inland points.

HALL of FAME

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Nominating CHARLES MYER.

Because he is one of the countless individuals nicknamed "Buddy" with no provocation whatever.

Because he drew the attention of big league scouts while cavorting on the diamond at the Mississippi A and M College.

Because the Cleveland Indians tried him out in the spring of 1925 and then decided he wouldn't do.

Because he drowned his grief by playing sensational ball for the New Orleans club all that season.

Because his record there includes one game in which he had nine assists and nine putouts in a nine-inning game.

Because his work there caused the Washington Senators to grab him late that season.

And because, he still looms as the best bet for the shortfield job with the Senators despite the fact that it has been decided repeatedly he isn't strong enough for the job.

Missouri Valley Conference colleges are not strong for Eastern football coaches. With the single exception of Bob Higgins, the mentor at Washington University, all of the Conference grid coaches hail from the Middle West.

Walter Johnson has been with the Washington club during his entire major league career of 20 years.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

BASEBALL fans awakened today to receive another surprise and one in which the Gotham fans claim the Giants got the worst of the deal. George Kelly, first baseman, having been sent to Cincinnati in exchange for Eddie Roush, outfielder. Speculation is rife as to whether Kelly or Wally Pipp will play first base for the Reds. Some writers profess to see Kelly covering ground in the outfield.

TERRY is considered the equal of Kelly, at least by John McGraw, and John believes that the addition of Roush will strengthen his outfield. Pipp played a good game for the Reds last season. Roush began his National League career with the Giants in 1916, later being sent to Cincinnati. He is 36 years old and doubtless has passed the peak of his career, according to Gotham critics.

BABE Ruth is a holdout. He is not satisfied with $52,000 a season, according to reports from Col. Ruppert, New York, and the Babe himself, at Hollywood Calif. The Bambino says he has been paid $52,000, and unless he is given an increase he is ready to quit baseball, which, of course, is the old bunk. $52,000 buys a lot of cakes. According to Col. Ruppert, Ruth will be offered $75,000 a year. The colonel has stated that until Ruth puts his signature to a contract he will not be allowed on the training field.

THERE is a possibility that the major leagues may sever relations with the three Class AA leagues over the revival of the draft controversy, according to New York dispatches. Their future course will be decided at a meeting to be held by the National and American League club owners. Recently the AA bodies rejected the proposed draft agreement. It called for restoration of the "universal draft" in the minors with a proviso that the price for selected stars be increased from $5,000 to $7,500. This, it is claimed by the minors, prevents selling stars at handsome figures.

VINCENT Richards predicts that Bill Tilden will turn professional before the end of the present year because of financial circumstances, in summing up his conception of tennis for the New York Evening Post. He claims the tennis association is dominated by a small clique and that $180,000 has been permitted to gather in its treasury for no apparent reason, while players have received inadequate traveling allowances.

Ban Johnson, who has furnished many columns of stuff for the sporting writers this winter, was once a sporting writer himself.

Ben Franklin High Trims Zelienople

Playing a fine game of basketball on their own floor, the Franklin Junior High school five defeated the invading Zelienople team yesterday by a 20-16 score. Coach Mitchell's quintet gave the local players a hard game and their followers a badly damaged nervous system.

Coach Norton's boys assumed the lead early in the first quarter when Johns, Kenst and Stewart caged a basket each from the floor. Following this flying start the Franklinite rooters made as much noise as a 1915 Ford.

This spurt of enthusiasm was quickly checked however when Clark Sunk a marker from the floor, thus starting the attack for the "Zils" which lasted well up into the second quarter. Captain Johns not liking the looks of things called time for the Junior High boys just as the half time whistle sounded with two 14's on the score board.

Repating their feat of several games this year the Franklin boys gave proof of good coaching when they made a remarkable strong rally during the second half which had the visitors running from one end of the gym to another and yet not knowing just where the ball was or should be.

Shook started the fireworks for the locals when he made the first field goal, Stewart following just as he was withdrawn from the game, Beres going in to take care of the center position. This lad was former captain of the football team and although he has never played much basketball he was the star of the last quarter when he came through with two baskets, putting his team in the lead that was held throughout the remainder of the game.

The Franklin boys have lost only two games this year, Bessemer high school and the Sharon Reserves downing them in two hard fought games.

Both the girl's and boy's teams from this school will play North street's rompers in a class league game on the Franklin floor Friday afternoon. The boy's will invade Mt. Jackson Wednesday, February 16 with the intention of giving the rural boys a stiff battle and coming home with one more "scalp."

The preliminary of the Franklin-Zelienople game was played between the Electric Students and 8-B-4, the Electricians taking a shocking victory 16-4 which won for them the championship of the school's class league.

The lineups:

Franklin —20.		Zelienople—16.
Johns	F	Clark
Kenst	F	Bell
Stewart	C	Weigel
Shook	G	Wilson
Ciccone	G	Evans

Subs: Franklin, Ruha, Beres, Zuiz; Zelienople, Nesbett, Graham.

Chicago Cub's New Stadium Offers Special Comforts For Women Fans

By GEORGE A. STRICKLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—If Milady's favorite pitcher evinces tendencies of "Sloughing" or some first baseman's pants don't fit to suit, Milady should worry and retire to the lounge room of the Chicago Cub's new statium, where she may spend the rest of the afternoon enjoying bridge or any other game of that description she might prefer to watching the Cubs in her moments of restlessness. Craps, however, will not be tolerated.

The lounge room—or rooms, for there will be two—will be one of the many homelike features of the new Cub plant, which will be complete about the middle of April, President William Veeck announced

Comfort For Ladies

One room will be located at each end of the grandstand along the first and third base lines. The constructional expansion intended to increase the capacity of the park by 15,000. The main feature of a construction is he erection of a second deck over the present stand.

Each lounge room will be 20x20 feet in dimensions and will be furnished with divans, lounges, easy chairs, ash trays and other equipment making for feminine comfort.

The arrangement will be an innovation in big league baseball equipment, no other parks in the National or American league having such facilities. Tremendously growing interest in baseball manifested by women prompted the installation of the new lounges, Veeck said.

Many Women Attend

More than 250,000 women are said to have attended Cub games last year, aiding greatly in making the season's attendance on the north side the best in the National league.

Inclement weather has hindered workmen in the rejuvenation of the Cub battleground, but Veeck declared it would be completed by the middle of April, when the Cubs return home after their first road trip.

With the additional 15,000 seats, the Cubs are expected to offer ample accommodations for 50,000 fans on Sundays and holidays while crowds of 45,000 will be easily handled without the customary overflow in the outfields.

The New Castle High girls in their recent game at Mars swamped the Butler County lassies under a huge score and they are overly anxious to turn the trick again. Coach Boyd put the locals through a workout on Wednesday afternoon and will have them out on the floor again tonight for their final rehearsal.

Westminster Is Crippled

Plays Waynesburg Tonight With Badly Crippled Line-Up—Lewis Out

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 10.—With Lewis, guard; Connor, forward, and Glen O'Donavon, substitute forward, on the injured list, Westminster is slated to play one of the most important contests on the Tri-State Conference schedule, Thursday evening, at Waynesburg. Lewis entered the Allegheny game suffering from a "charley horse" and the result was disastrous. He could scarcely walk Wednesday and there is little hope that he will be in uniform tonight. Connor twisted his ankle while O'Donavon received a gash on the head.

Coach John Lawther was in a quandary Wednesday. With Lewis and Connor injured, two of the most important cogs, are missing. Both are sorely needed if the going at Waynesburg is to be even interesting. Ie is thought that O'Donavon may be able to play in place of Connor while McQuiston will probably be used at Lewis' guard.

The Waynesburg tilt will doubtless have an important bearing on the final Tri-State Conference standing. At present, Westminster is tied with Duquesne for the leadership. However, to continue at the head of the pack, Westminster must defeat Waynesburg, and this is hardly possible with the team in it's present physical state. And then again, it is doubted if Westminster could overthrow the Yellow Jackets on their home floor when in the best of shape. The Jackets trounced Duquesne and critics of the district believe Duquesne to be the best ever.

After the game with the Yellow Jackets, Westminster's floor-men will return to prepare for the Duquesne game at Pittsburgh, Monday evening and the contest at Bethany, the following night.

One of the oddities of nature is that a broken heart doesn't affect a girl's appetite.

A Star In Two Sports — By Feg Murray

This is Russell Daugherity, captain of the Illinois basketball team, and star footballer as well, who is at present burning up the courts of the Western Conference as a hard-driving forward on Coach Ruby's team. Last season, handicapped by illness as he was, "Pug" was able to score 62 points in 12 "Big Ten" games and this year he should do much better, even though Illinois started the campaign with a green team.

Folks who follow the fortunes of the Illini on the various athletic fields sometimes mention Daugherity in the same breath with "Chuck" Carney, All-American end in 1920, and acknowledged the best center that ever played basketball in the Western Conference. Chuck was one of Illinois's greatest athletes and last fall helped Arnold Horween coach the oft-stepped-on Harvard team.

Basketball seems to be a game that appeals to football players. Ernie Nevers, Stanford's greatest grid star, also shone at the indoor game, and Harry Wilson, the fleet Army ball-carrier, last year completely subdued the Navy in the annual service basketball game by dropping so many long shots into the cage that the middies were sunk 21 to 12.

The first time I saw Pug Daugherity in action was in the Penn-Illinois football game of 1925. Although quite overshadowed by the invincible Grange, who enjoyed one of the best days of his career, nevertheless Pug corralled most of the honors not carried off by the famous sorrel-top. He crashed through the Penn line on many occasions for first downs, and showed a clever little trick of slicing to one side or the other after crossing the line of scrimmage.

Last fall after playing consistently good, though not spectacular football throughout the season, he came into his own in the Chicago game with a brilliant 60-yard run to make the only score of the day.

When "Pug" starts, he just keeps right on going, either on the gridiron or on the basketball court.

Feg Murray Says—

Walter Miller, a California wrestler and former world's middleweight champion, always kept a twenty-five cent piece in his mouth during his mat contests. One opponent, knowing of this superstitious trait, got a strangle-hold on Walter's neck and told him, to "cough up". But Miller had lost his two-bit piece, and so he gurgled back "My coffers are empty"!

Quarter was asked, but not given in this bout.

This modern age puts Camels first

THIS age tried Camels and placed them first. And it was no half-way verdict. Never in the history of smoking was a cigarette given a leadership like Camel has today.

To find why Camels are the favorite, just try them. You will find the perfect fragrance and taste of choice tobaccos, rarely blended. You will experience a mellow mildness that gives endless cigarette enjoyment!

For the choice of the modern age— "Have a Camel!"

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Now we are told that Jack Dempsey's failure to whip Gene Tunney last September can be laid directly to the fact that the former took an overdose of paregoric the day of the fight, which made him sleepy and sluggish—that he was in perfect condition, but the "dope" deadened his senses and muscle action.

* * *

This revelation opens up a new field in alibi-ing. It gives Fred Merkle a reasonable excuse for failing to touch second, back in 1908. And Merkle, victim of one of baseball's cruelist tricks of fate, has gone all these years without finding a suitable one. Fred Snodgrass, it may come out now, was suffering from the same misfortune the day he booted that $30,000 fly for the jolly Giants. Then there was Roger Peckinpaugh's eight muffs in the 1925 world's series.

* * *

BUT IT WON'T HELP TENNIS HEADS

But the paregoric story doesn't let the tennis officials out for eliminating Vincent Richards from the 1926 ranking. They could have shouted his name loud enough to have been heard all over the world had they found their arms paralyzed by any such medicine. The squawk they raised over Charley Hoff's expense account was heard from coast to coast.

Now that one ponders over the matter there comes the thought that Wynant Hubbard overlooked a bet in explaining Harvard's poor showing in football of late years. Can it be that paregoric was being slipped in the boys' oatmeal water every Saturday Now that we think of it one may well wonder if the Crimson boys would have suffered so many broken arms and noses had they been able to yank them out of the way of those awful brutes.

* * *

And I warn the boss right now that if he ever finds me feeling off form in the morning, I'm going to pull the paregoric racket.

* * *

It's the best one I've heard of lately.

* * *

I WAS JUST THINKING ABOUT—

Addie Joss, the famous old Cleveland pitcher. He was one man whom Ty Cobb found troublesome. The latter collected but 24 hits off Addie in the 25 games in which they faced each other, for a batting average of .258.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drugstore. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.

Grand lodge officers will be present. A similar banquet, initiation and dance will be held at Pittsburgh, Tuesday night and some members also are preparing to attend this event.

Might isn't right; but small countries must remember that mere smallness is no alibi.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Battle of Gaine's Mill. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE REPULSE OF THE CONFEDERATES AT MECHANICSVILLE ON JUNE 26, 1862, BEGAN A SERIES OF ENGAGEMENTS THAT ARE SPOKEN OF AS THE "SEVEN DAYS' BATTLES." THAT NIGHT "STONEWALL" JACKSON'S ARMY ARRIVED AND THE SOUTHERN GENERALS UNITED FOR AN ATTACK ON PORTER'S FEDERAL DIVISION WHICH HAD BEATEN THEM OFF IN THE AFTERNOON.

MEANWHILE, PORTER'S DIVISION, NOW NUMBERING 30,000, HAD BEEN ORDERED TO RETIRE FROM MECHANICSVILLE TO GAINE'S MILL. HERE, AT NOON ON JUNE 27TH, IT WAS SET UPON BY THE CONFEDERATES, 50,000 STRONG, AND DRIVEN SOUTH OF THE CHICKAHOMINY. LEE HAD LEFT BUT A SMALL FORCE IN RICHMOND WHILE HE MADE THIS MOVEMENT AND McCLELLAN, IF HE HAD BUT KNOWN, COULD EASILY HAVE CAPTURED THE CITY.

THIS VICTORY PLACED THE CONFEDERATES ACROSS McCLELLAN'S LINE OF COMMUNICATION WITH THE YORK RIVER AND LEE BELIEVED THAT THE NORTHERN LEADER WOULD EITHER HAVE TO FIGHT HIS WAY BACK OR RETREAT DOWN THE "PENINSULA" TO FORTRESS MONROE.

THE EVACUATION OF WHITE HOUSE LANDING.

BUT McCLELLAN DID NEITHER. SINCE THE DETENTION OF McDOWELL'S ARMY, HE HAD BEEN PLANNING TO CONCENTRATE HIS FORCES SOUTH OF THE CHICKAHOMINY AND SHIFT HIS SUPPLY BASE TO THE JAMES. HE NOW GAVE ORDERS TO EVACUATE WHITE HOUSE LANDING AND BEGAN MARCHING SOUTHWARD.

TOMORROW—CLOSE OF THE PENINSULAR CAMPAIGN.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Speculative interest shifted from the "little rails" to the industrial and specialty stocks in early trading today. With the collapse of the bubble in the low priced merger-rails, and the wiping out of margins in Wednesday's violent market.

The sky-flying Wheeling & Lake Erie common lost 10 points on only one sale of 100 shares reported in the first hour of trading. The preferred sold at 83, down 4, while Chicago Great Western lost 2 and Western Maryland 3½. The high grade investment rails made a better showing.

The pool in Baldwin Locomotive advanced the price of that stock to 172 in order to force short covering. Radio Corporation continued its spectacular advance to 56½. United States Rubber moved up to 64½ in its widely-advertised "drive" and a few of the well-known oils, including producers and refiners, Shell Union and Skelly displayed a strong trend.

The move of the industrials encountered considerable resistance in the second hour, when short selling was resumed on a heavy scale by the professionals. The "little rails" were also offered in large volume, and the trend of prices turned sharply downward. Call money 4 per cent.

Phone Operator On Witness Stand In Daugherty Case

Girl Operator Tells Of Calls To Washington By John T. King

ALL CALLS WERE MARKED OFFICIAL

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. — John T. King, late Connecticut politician who obtained $391,000 to "arrange" for the return by the Government of $7,000,000 in seized German assets, talked frequently over the long distance telephone with Harry M. Daugherty, often every day in the week, while Daugherty was Attorney General of the United States, it was testified at the Daugherty-Miller conspiracy trial here today.

Elizabeth Miller, youthful telephone operator who worked in the Attorney General's office, told from the witness stand of the numerous long distance conversations. She said King's calls were a regular thing, no matter where he happened to be.

The Government is trying to show that Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former Alien Property Custodian, received part of the $391,000 as a bribe for passing the $7,000,000 claim.

Miss Miller testified that King sometimes telephoned Daugherty from Washington, also, and that at times Daugherty would call King on long distance to New York.

Under cross-examination the witness said that she didn't think of these telephone conversations between Daugherty and King until she read the testimony of the first Daugherty-Miller trial, which resulted in a jury disagreement.

"Then I recalled these conversations," she said, "and thought it peculiar because I had always thought Mr. King was an employe of the Department of Justice.

The testimony caused the first trace of excitement in the courtroom since the second trial began.

"From the frequency of the calls I thought that they must be official," the witness said. She marked them "official," she said, because she was told to.

"I would ask Miss Carroll, secretary to General Daugherty, about the calls, and she told me they were official. Jess Smith also said they were official."

Much Basketball Played This Year

GROVE CITY, Pa., Feb. 10.—With every floor in the town occupied every night and home games selling at a premium, Grove City seems to be at the peak of basketball enthusiasm. There are five local courts available: Grove City College gym., two floors at the high school, the state armory and a recently built floor in the gym. of the Methodist church. With varsities and class teams of the college and high school and a number of independent amateur and semi-pro teams in town, every floor is busy every evening, each with its nightly row of spectators. Grove City has always been a strong basketball town and this year is more so, and any team scheduled to play here may expect a hot contest. The college and high school teams are always somewhere near the top, winning most of their games, while there are a number of independent teams playing fast basketball, "The Grovers" winning nine straight games without a loss, the team of the two companies of the National Guard, Grove City Scholastics and various church teams and teams sponsored by merchants.

Grove City has developed many good basketball men in the last few years and should continue to do so considering the material and enthusiasm displayed.

Veteran Constable Of Grove City Dies

GROVE CITY, Pa., Feb. 10.—Suffering from a paralytic stroke on Thursday and failing to recover Constable James Ramsey, Davidson died at his home here in Grove City on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Davidson, aged 80 at his death, had served the Grove City borough in the capacity of constable for over 30 years and his sincerity and activity in the performance of his duties won for him the respect of the entire community. Mr. Davidson was for a long time the only officer of the law in this vicinity, taking care of every case requiring legal authority. His duties ranged from rounding up "moonshiners' and bandits to clearing the streets of school children after the curfew bell had rung.

Term after term he was re-elected to the position by an overwhelming popular vote and still held his position at his death, in point of service one of the oldest constables in the state.

The constable was a life long member of the United Presbyterian church, taking an active interest in all work of the church. He was one of the pioneers of Prohibition party in this section of the state and was always a constant advocate of enforcement measures.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10:30 from the First United Presbyterian church.

Kentucky Stirred by Murder Case

Kentucky awaits with interest the murder trial, beginning March 7, at Henderson, of Mrs. Frances Yates, 19, and Ed Powell, 55, tobacco planter, charged with murdering Mrs. Yates' husband, Elmer, and burning his body in an abandoned shack four miles away. Photos show scenes at preliminary hearing: Powell (with back to photographer) talking to son and jailer; and Mrs. Yates with baby. Right, Powell going to jail.

Legislators Astounded By Woman With No Bills

By J. C. JOHNSEN
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 10. —The only legislator who hasn't come to the Kansas legislature armed with a lot of new laws is Miss Stella B. Haines, representative from Butler county.

"I have definitely made up my mind on several principles for which I will stand, but I haven't a single bill to introduce," says Miss Haines.

Miss Haines' declaration has astounded veteran politicians. It is the first time since women have become members of the legislature that they haven't come armed to the hilt with new bills.

A chairman of the legislative committee for the Kansas Women's Federation of Clubs, Miss Haines is seeking the state's ratification of the Sheppard-Towner maternity and child welfare measure.

Miss Haines' hobby is flowers and in Augusta, Kas., where she resides, she operates a floral shop.

She is the first woman to be listed in the house of representatives' directory as a home-maker, for, says Miss Haines, "I am not a housewife, because I am unmarried; and I am not a housekeeper because I do not receive money for my housekeeping." So the clerk of the house has listed her as a "home-maker". Also, she was the first woman to serve on a Butler county jury and the first woman elected to any office in the county.

Prior to her election to the legislature, Miss Haines was president of the Augusta school board, and before that she served 15 years as a school teacher.

Flaming Youth

Mother sent her little boy to take his smaller sister safely to kindergarten. When the boy came back in a surprisingly short time, she asked:

"Harry, did you treat Mary like a little lady as I asked you to do?"

"No," said Harry, carelessly, "we canned that lody-an-gentleman stuff and I chased her most of the way."

Now when you read that she raised her eyebrows you don't know whether it means an expression of surprise or a bit of pencil work.

Mine Policeman Dies Of Wounds, Five In Custody

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 10.—Upon receipt of word from Brownsville that Paul A. Fox, 37, Vestaburg coal and iron policeman, succumbed to wounds received when bootleggers killed Fox's companion, Paul A. Knapp, formerly of Kane, Pa., county authorities said today they expect to announce the names of the slayers soon.

Two of the three assailants of Knapp and Fox are among the five men held by Washington county authorities in jail here, the district attorney said but he declined to reveal which two he had in mind. Those under arrest are: Roy, 31; Warren, 30 and Robert Wenrich; 21, Frank Spaford, 21, and Delbert Kinnian, 23, all of West Brownsville.

The identity of the third member of the gang is known and his arrest is said to be imminent.

Fox died from four bullet wounds, one of which penetrated his spine.

"Abandon Hope, You Who Drink This" Suggested

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. — "Abandon all hope, ye who drink this" should be written on every bottle of whisky sold in the United States, according to General Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of prohibition enforcement.

"I don't see how anybody in this country has the nerve to take a drink," the dry czar said today, discussing a report by Chief Medical Examiner Charles Norris, New York, on alcoholic poisoning in the metropolis.

An acute "emergency" has arisen, Andrews maintained, "as even the drug store liquor has been found impure."

Now her husband has reappeared. Following his disappearance, the Rev. R. U. Campbell, Mrs. Mast's pastor, received a letter then thought to be from Mast, saying that his body would be found in the river.

State Salary Raising Bills Appear Doomed

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 10. — "I do not believe in salary grab bills as a general thing."

That declaration of Gov. John S. Fisher today is looked upon as the well greased chute upon which will slide another fine lot of house and senate salary increasing measures. The Governor made the declaration last night in outlining his policy on such bills.

The biennial crop of salary raisers in both houses this session is said to be usually heavy. There are measures to increase the pay of all kind of state, county and city servants. They start with the tipstaves and court criers and go on up to the judiciary. If the latter measures are passed it is estimated that they alone would add $900,000 a year to the cost of courts.

After introducing measures to care for the various grades of civil employes a bill was introduced in the house which would increase the pay of members of both houses from $2,500 to $4,000 a session.

Present members of the legislature who back the bill would not benefit unless they were re-elected. The constitution provides that.

The Governor refused to indicate what his attitude would be toward any particular class of salary increase measures. He said that there may be cases where the present remuneration is insufficient but he made it quite plain that he did not believe there was anything general about the situation.

Although the Governor from the beginning of the campaign had promised economical, business-like administration his statement last night was the first he has made outlining his attitude toward general salary increases.

Several weeks ago it was forecast that one of the first problems which the new executive board would tackle was a general job and salary classification. Instead the only class considered at the meeting was that of law stenographers. It was agreed to increase their pay because of the difficulty the state has experienced in keeping them.

Today it was generally agreed about the capital that few of the salary measures will ever get out of committee, because of the Governor's stand. A two thirds vote is necessary to pass over his veto and they are usually scarce during the first session of a new governor.

It was necessary for the teacher to dismiss the pupils for the day, while the stove and the room were put in order again.
